Russia Rejects Plea For Geneva Conference

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — The Soviet Union turned down a request from Britain Saturday that the two set up a new Geneva Conference to negotiate peace for Viet Nam.

Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet co-chairman of the 1954 Geneva Conference, got the request from Foreign Secretary George Brown, the present British co-chairman, in an 80-minute talk at the Soviet U.N. mission in New York.

Brown asked Gromyko to join him in reconvening the conference, British sources said, but the response was not encouraging, and there was no basic change in the Soviet position.

The Soviet position has been that the conference should not be reconvened now. In the last two years, the Soviet Union has rejected repeated British requests for a new conference, on grounds either that the time was not appropriate or that not all the participants would attend.

After visiting Moscow last July, Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi said Soviet Prime Minister Alexei N. Kosygin told her the Soviet Union would call a new conference till North Viet Nam asked for one.

The British sources said that when Brown met Gromyko, both men knew that North Viet Nam had rejected the six-point plan for peace in Viet Nam that Brown had put forward Thursday.

He will seek U.S. reaction to his plan at meetings in New York Monday with Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, the United States' chief delegate to the United Nations, and in Washington Friday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Gromyko was going to Washington Saturday for meetings with Johnson and Rusk Monday.

Brown's plan was: 1. A peace conference should convene as soon as possible with the South Vietnamese rebels' National Liberation Front represented.

2. When this is agreed to, the United States and South Viet Nam should stop bombing North Viet Nam, and the United States and North Viet Nam should stop sending troops and supplies to South Viet Nam.

3. The high commands should call a halt to new aggressive actions preliminary to a ceasefire as the first goal of the conference.

4. The political settlement at the conference should be based broadly on the 1954 Geneva agreements, providing for withdrawal of foreign forces and neutralization. Governments chosen in free elections within two years in North and South Viet Nam should decide whether to unite the two.

5. The withdrawals and elections should be under international inspection, and international aid should follow.

6. The present International Control Commission should handle the inspection and have an international peace-keeping force at its disposal.

Italians Riot In Job Dispute

TRIESTE, Italy (AP)—Demonstrators battled police into the early hours Sunday in a bloody workers' protest against a government reorganization of Italy's shipbuilding industry that they fear may cost them their jobs.

Thirty workers and 20 policemen were injured in wild melees that began Saturday morning, with demonstrators wielding iron bars and bricks and police firing tear gas grenades. Police jailed 150 rioters and placed many more under guard.

Police and Carabinieri (national police) reinforcements arrived in the city from three nearby towns.

Cleared out of major downtown squares, the workers retreated to a barricaded neighborhood in the Communist-dominated San Giacomo District of the city and refused to budge.

Police were still throwing tear gas bombs this morning over toppled buses and other vehicles used to blockade the streets. Bright police flares lit the sky over areas where the demonstrators had broken all street lamps.

Officers ringed the offices of the newspaper Il Piccolo, turning back sporadic attacks by demonstrators heaving bricks and pieces of coal at the building. The newspaper had editorially praised the government's reorganization plan.

The city administration blamed Communist activists for the rioting. The Trieste section of the Communist party issued a statement condemning what it termed police brutality during the demonstrations.

The riot stemmed from a demonstration and strike by 1,000 workers of the San Marco Shipyards. They were called out by the Communist-led General Confederation of Italian Labor and joined by 1,000 workers who poured from factories.

The workers were angered by a government plan, announced Friday night, for total reorganization of shipbuilding activity in Italy. The plan will convert the San Marco yards into repair docks, with shipbuilding to be centered in nearby Montecarlo.

At Italy's biggest port city Genoa, across the peninsula on the Ligurian Seacoast, workers also reacted against the government shipyard plan. Their unions called a general strike in all activity for next Friday. The unions said the government plan "totally ignored the unions directly involved."

The government plan is aimed at streamlining the nation's shipbuilding sector and at cutting costs.

Group Contents Supreme Court's Views Widened

WASHINGTON (AP) — The gap between the liberal and conservative wings of the Supreme Court widened during the tribunal's last term, the American Jewish Congress said Saturday.

But it said liberal justices still were clearly in the majority, their position solidified by the voting record of freshman Justice Abe Fortas.

The findings were in the 10th annual summary and analysis of the high court's civil rights and civil liberties decisions issued by the organization. (Turn To Page Ten)

Delay Funds Request

Solons May Finish In 10 Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson seems to have cleared the way for possible adjournment of Congress within the next 10 days by postponing until January any request for additional Viet Nam war funds.

Congressional leaders who reported this said they presumed any decision on whether to ask for new taxes also would await a year-end survey of appropriations voted by Congress and a check on how much domestic spending could be withheld by the executive.

The feeling was general on Capitol Hill that there would be no post-election call for a special session.

To Map Procedure In these circumstances, Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois expect to meet Monday with House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., to draft an adjournment schedule.

There had been some concern that Johnson would ask for partial funding of the mounting war costs in the last big catch-all money bill and that resulting controversy might force Congress to recess over the elections. But members have been assured there will be no request for Viet Nam funds until January.

Mansfield said that so far as the Senate was concerned, it could dispose of all necessary legislation by not later than Oct. 22 if the House moved swiftly on the catch-all money bill and there was no breakdown in resolving differences of the two chambers over such measures as the $38-billion defense appropriation.

Dirksen said in a separate interview he believed the session could be ended a day or two earlier than that.

As for Johnson's intentions on taxes, no one in Congress professes to have any reliable knowledge.

Those who have discussed the matter with him say the President shows extreme reluctance to entertain the idea of raising taxes. They say he points to rising federal revenues and his drive to hold down spending by $3 billion as possible alternatives.

Dirksen, who has been trying with little success to attach amendments to bills which would let the President withhold 20 per cent of the money they provide, said he doubted Johnson would have much luck in holding down expenditures.

"I don't see where he is going to find the $3 billion to cut out," he said.

THREE FLAGS—of Canada, India and Poland—flutter over the Hanoi headquarters of the International Control and Supervisory Commission. All but forgotten in the diplomatic tug of war over the Vietnamese war, the commission was set up in 1954 to supervise the Geneva agreements ending France's Indo-China war.

Hurricane Inez Eyes Texas Coast

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Dangerous Hurricane Inez, not showing her age and as unpredictable as ever, swung northwestward Saturday, posing a threat to the Texas coast.

Although the giant, 15-day-old storm that has left 150 dead was 310 miles southeast of Brownsville at 7 p.m. (CST), the winds kicked up swells five to eight feet above normal on Mustang and Padre islands.

The Weather Bureau said the hurricane was expected to veer even more to the northwest, from its formerly westward course, during the night. Its speed was to hold at about 10 miles an hour.

The center of the storm should move inland Sunday a little north of Tampico, Mexico, if the change in course does not develop, the Weather Bureau said.

Air Cavalry Finally Gets Big Payoff

PHU CAT, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division sought in a series of drives for more than a year to round up a sizable group of Communist soldiers — Viet Cong or North Vietnamese.

Mostly the troopers caught only a few at a time. But that all changed on the central coast this week.

Now the division has almost more than it can handle, the lion's share of the greatest prisoner bag of the war.

Capt. Ralph Stevens, 28, of Wolfboro, N.H., in charge of the cavalry's prison compound at Phu Cat, is a very busy man.

Holding 389 "I've got 389 live bodies on hand right now," he said Friday. "Some are Viet Cong, some are North Vietnamese and some are just civilians."

Vietnamese and American intelligence men question the prisoners to determine just what they are. Communist regulars are sent to what is called a reorientation camp at Pleiku in the central highlands. Noncombatants, even though they may be Communist sympathizers, are sent home, under the eyes of the Vietnamese National Police.

In the cavalry's current Operation Irving, which is a joint campaign with a Korean division and more than a division of South Vietnamese, enemy groups as large as 66 have surrendered, with their weapons.

The combined count of prisoners is in excess of 600 known Communist troops and 1,400 suspects. Intelligence officers say about 25 per cent of the suspects are turning out to be guerrillas, as compared to the usual 5 or 10 per cent of such suspects.

This is the largest prisoner count of the war.

Brownsville is at the southern tip of Texas and both islands are thin sandspits stretching hundreds of miles up the coast about 10 miles offshore.

The Weather Bureau issued a hurricane watch for the Texas coast and warned citizens to evacuate beaches and other low areas.

The Navy ordered that 108 aircraft stationed at Corpus Christi, Kingsville and Beeville be flown to inland bases.

Tides were two feet above normal at Freeport, far up the coast south of Houston.

The hurricane swiped Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula on Thursday and Friday, destroying 15 boats and collapsing 100 homes in the port of Progreso. Most of the destroyed craft were fishing boats.

In Merida, Mexico, the sun came out Saturday, although several streets of the city of 175,000 were flooded and utilities disrupted.

Inez was moving at about 12 miles an hour with winds near the center of 135 m.p.h. — a major hurricane.

Gales — winds of only slightly less than hurricane force of 75 m.p.h. — extended 200 miles from Inez' center.

The unpredictable storm took an almost directly westerly course for three days, aiming at Mexico's heartland before the Weather Bureau reported Saturday that "present indications are that Inez will turn to a more northwesterly course today and tonight" and the "threat to the Texas coast increases."

Earlier, the storm pounded the Gulf of Mexico.

PLAN EXPANSION OF GALESBURG PLANT

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP) — Charles C. Gates Jr., president of the Gates Rubber Co., announced Saturday a $5.5 million addition to the company's Galesburg plant will be started immediately.

The addition will contain warehousing, production and office space.

The company, headquartered in Denver, Colo., produces high pressure hose in Galesburg. The Galesburg plant now employs 475 persons. The addition is expected to result in employment of an additional 200.

MENTAL PATIENT DROWNS

DIXON, Ill. (AP) — A mental patient at the Dixon State School apparently drowned Saturday after falling into the Rock River adjacent to the school grounds.

School officials said Bernard Mullaney, 20, of Chicago, was found by two men who were canoeing on the river. Mullaney had been at the school since 1949, when he was assigned there by the Circuit Court.

portions of the West Indies, crossed Cuba twice, went north off the east Florida coast and then turned backward to move between Florida and Cuba and into the Gulf of Mexico.

Inez battered villages on the peninsula, flooded streets and damaged utilities. High seas destroyed a dock in the village of Telchac and the town was evacuated.

Before reaching the Yucatan Peninsula, Inez left more than 150 dead and caused millions of dollars of property and crop damage in a two-week rampage over Guadeloupe, the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, Cuba, the Bahamas and Florida.

He will seek U.S. reaction to his plan at meetings in New York Monday with Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, the United States' chief delegate to the United Nations, and in Washington Friday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Gromyko was going to Washington Saturday for meetings with Johnson and Rusk Monday.

Brown's plan was: 1. A peace conference should convene as soon as possible with the South Vietnamese rebels' National Liberation Front represented.

He wrote that view in the labor federation's magazine, the American Federationist.

Beller said a mere 100 of the nation's approximately 400,000 separately owned manufacturing companies owned well over half the land, buildings and equipment used in the U.S. production.

"If this rate continues," he went on, "America will be faced with a condition of super concentration within little more than a decade."

"By 1977, the 100 largest manufacturing corporations will control more than two-thirds of the nation's net manufacturing assets."

Beller said a tiny fraction of American business — a fourth of one per cent — had received 72 per cent of all industrial profits in 1965.

While conceding that "not every merger is an unmitigated evil," Beller said most corporate marriages were arranged for financial convenience alone — not to improve efficiency, create more jobs or reduce prices.

He said that the volunteers and Peace Corps staff here, he said, "I will just offer some profound advice."

Volunteers in Nigeria and other west African countries have gripped for months about plans to cut their living allowance — a decision of the Sargent Shriver regime — and cut out a chain of Peace Corps hostels — a decision of the Vaughn regime.

John McConnell, Peace Corps director in Nigeria, in Washington at the time of the protest, suggested Vaughn move up his projected year-end visit.

At issue are the monthly allowances that have been cut in half in a dozen African countries around Nigeria, and hostels for the use of traveling volunteers. One Peace Corps official here said the workers were worried less about money than about not being consulted before the decision was made.

Troop Reduction Could Hurt, Hinder Russians

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has major reasons for deciding to reject President Johnson's proposal to reduce troops on both sides of the Iron Curtain — and it also has reasons to accept.

Soviet leaders kept silent Saturday on the proposal while possibly weighing the reasons. The proposal was omitted from press reports here of the President's speech, while Johnson was said to be determined to keep up Western strength in Europe.

The Soviet Union might withdraw some of its 375,000 soldiers now in Eastern Europe without being willing to talk publicly about it. Some withdrawal could even come after a denunciation of the Johnson proposal.

One strong reason against the "gradual and balanced revision in force levels on both sides," which Johnson suggested Friday, involves Viet Nam and China.

The United States already has pulled some troops out of West Germany to send to Viet Nam. It is considering withdrawing more, regardless of whether the Russians do anything.

But any Soviet withdrawal would open the Kremlin to the charge, which the bitterly critical Red Chinese are sure to make, that the Soviet Union is in collusion with the United States to help crush the Vietnamese Communists.

Peking makes the collusion charge frequently in other connections. Johnson's listing in a speech of areas of Soviet-American cooperation, such as resumption of airline service talks and expanding trade, was a red flag to the bulls in the Red China shop.

He said that the volunteers and Peace Corps staff here, he said, "I will just offer some profound advice."

Stock Market Hit By Uncertainties

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market — beset by uncertainties — fell this week to its lowest level in nearly three years.

The action was a continuation of the almost steady slide from last Feb. 9, when the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials reached a record high of 995.15.

At a conference Thursday, President Johnson was asked for "your reaction to the rather steady decline on the market in recent months."

Johnson said, "I think a good many things have a bearing on market fluctuations. I think the high interest rates, I think the attractiveness of other securities, I think some of the uncertainties that exist concerning how much money the government itself, will be spending next year, I think the questions of doubt about our tax policy — all of these are given weight."

"A Good Year" Johnson added that he thinks "most of the people in this country feel like 1966 has been a very good year. There has never been a better one. I believe that 1967 will be equally as good."

Johnson's optimism failed to inspire the market. It took another loss Friday.

Both blue chips and glamour stocks suffered sharp losses during the week.

On Monday the Dow Jones industrials plunged 16.26 points, biggest drop since July 25, when they fell 16.32. On Friday, the Dow Jones industrial average lost 5.29 points to 744.32, lowest since it touched 741.0 on Nov. 27, 1963.

For the week the Dow Jones industrials declined 29.90 points to 744.32, lowest since 741.0 on Nov. 27, 1963. The Associated Press 60-stock average fell 10.2 points to 289.4, also a new 1966 low.

Italians Fighting Three-Front War

ROME (AP)—Italy is fighting three wars, all within its own frontiers. In none is victory in sight.

More than 20,000 heavily armed troops and national police are in action against terrorists at the Austrian frontier, hill bandits in Sardinia, and the Mafia in Sicily.

The toll in lives in the three outlying regions has run into many hundreds in recent years. Scores of the dead have been soldiers and carabinieri, Italy's army-trained national police.

The three regions have full-scale military operations. Battle-equipped Alpine troops and armored cars operate in the Alto Adige of the north. Cavalry roam the wilds of Sardinia. Roadblocks and motorized troops make night raids in Sicily.

Italy took over the Alto Adige from Austria after World War I. Terrorists demand that the region be given back to Austria.

Five thousand Alpine troops and 3,000 carabinieri are there trying to maintain order. But the terrorists are hard to catch. Italy contends they strike from across the border and are trained, equipped and protected in Germany and Austria by die-hard Nazi groups still dreaming of pan-Germanism.

Other Italian troops and thousands of carabinieri have orders to stamp out killings, kidnappings and rustling in the rugged hinterland inland of Sardinia.

Three thousand police and carabinieri were massed around Nuoro in the province where 500 persons were slain in a blood-bath of violence in 1950-1953. Feud and vengeance killings have continued ever since.

ROODHOUSE—Don Groham, consulting engineer for the Mid-State Aluminum Manufacturing and police crackdown in Sicily have driven underground the looseknit outlaw alliance of the Mafia but have not wiped it out nor overcome the average Sicilian's fear of its power.

Seven centuries of bloodshed had made the Mafia a law above the law in Sicily until the bomb slaying of seven policemen aroused Parliament and prompted new laws and a tougher crackdown.

More than 10,000 soldiers and national police are in action on the island. At least 30 soldiers and police have died in gun-fights with the outlaws since the war. Palermo alone has had 600 violent deaths since 1961. The inland town of Corleone, with 20,000 population in the heart of the Mafia country, had 150 killings in that time.

No Rickshaws, Coolies

Chinese Cities Being Transformed By Reds

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP) — The great cities of China and some of the lesser ones are being transformed outwardly by the iconoclastic "Red Guards." Under communism the cities already have lost much of their old flavor. Peking, Shanghai, Canton — these were cities whose names conjured up images of gaiety and international intrigue, and revolutionary plotting. Since 1949, Mao Tse-tung has altered their look and their feel, knocking down old walls, erecting ugly, functional buildings, cleaning them up to within an inch of their former bourgeois lives.

Time was when the Chinese in their long, blue gowns rolled silently through the narrow, muddy hutongs and back lanes of Peking, reclining luxuriously in rickshaws pulled by half-naked coolies. The rickshaws and the coolies are gone, replaced by the bicycle, an occasional automobile, tricycle, pedicab and shank's mare.

Peking, capital of the world's most populous nation, is a political city. Its Mao-era buildings are new but dull. Apartment houses and stodgy government structures clash with the architecture of the ancient palaces and the secluded, tile-roofed houses of the past.

Bursting at the seams — the city's population has soared from two million before 1949 to nearly six million today. Peking is all bustle in the daytime, particularly these days as squads of Red Guards roam far and wide, changing street signs, pasting up millions of portraits of Mao, festooning the buildings with red-bannered slogans.

Until this year, the year of Mao's revolutionary purges, Peking's temples and old places were kept intact, painted and refurbished to impress foreign visitors with communism's respect for religion and ancient culture.

All this is changing under the adolescent blows of the Red Guards who have pillaged Buddhist, Taoist and Catholic centers, desecrated Buddhist treasures, defiled foreign cemeteries.

If Peking has changed, Shanghai, once the great trade and money mart of the mainland, is almost unrecognizable. The tall buildings erected by the "imperialist" Chinese and Japanese — the Cathay Hotel, the Broadway mansions, the old race track — still stand, identified by ingenious guides as Mao's creations. But they have been turned into guest houses, party and labor headquarters.

Though the city has burgeoned in size to more than eight million people, making it bigger than ever, it wears a mood of sanitary Marxism, one that would shock the ghosts of the Chinatown hostesses, the gold-toothed millionaires and the playboy foreigners of yesterday.

From 160 to 200 pounds is the general weight of an elephant at birth.

RESCUE FROM THE SEA

The Navy is at work on a new system which could spell the difference between rescue and tragedy in future submarine disasters. Key elements are a new rescue craft, which can be transported to a disaster scene by plane or ship, and speed. By 1970, the Navy should have the capability of mounting a rescue operation anywhere in the world on 24-hour notice.

Redesigned rescue submersible will be capable of carrying 24 crewmen to the surface at a time, twice the capacity of present craft. Increased capacity also permits taking down greater emergency supplies of oxygen for transfer to a distressed submarine, raising from 24 to 48 hours crew survival time underwater. Six of the Deep Submergence Rescue Vehicles are being built by Lockheed Missiles and Space Co. of Sunnyvale, Calif.

All Reaping Benefits Of Space Research

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Women are cooking with better pots and pans, while medical men have a new weapon for Parkinson's disease, brain and eye operations.

Spies of the James Bond school can pack a radio bug inside an olive in a martini, as manufacturing firms build bigger earthmoving equipment than ever before known.

It's all part of the fallout from a $5 billion-a-year investment called "the U.S. space program."

To the scientist — whose basic research today will provide the building blocks for even more technological progress tomorrow — the importance of satellites as a tool has been incalculable.

Here are some of the lesser-known dividends quietly being harvested:

MEDICINE

Tiny devices derived from space medicine, which measure accurately the temperature of frozen tissue, have been incorporated in surgery-by-freezing techniques on the brain and eye. The devices, called thermocouples, are contributing to the development of freezing-style surgery for treating Parkinson's disease, brain and pituitary-gland tumors, detached retinas and removing tonsils.

Precision control systems used on space vehicles for operating lightweight plastic pumps have been beneficial in developing artificial hearts.

Research in developing compact but nutritionally complete diets for men and animals on long space flights could reduce hunger and dietary deficiencies in underdeveloped areas. It is already benefiting civil defense and military activities, where food storage is a continuing problem.

HOME

Filament-winding techniques used in space suits have developed better brassiere supports. Space suit technology has also suggested better lining methods when making clothing.

A heat-resistant motor built for spacecraft use, which moves when current is applied and freezes in position when the current stops, may be applied to position TV antennas. A tape recorder developed for space use could monitor home telephones during vacations.

INDUSTRY

Space suits created for astronauts are being tested for use in firefighting and in industries, where toxic gases and extreme temperatures could be hazardous to workmen.

Huge turtle-like land vehicles built to haul NASA's Saturn 5 moon rocket to the launch pad at Cape Kennedy required development techniques that may lead to bigger earthmoving equipment than ever before known.

Space research in generating electric power from nuclear energy will eventually lead to more efficient, less expensive commercial power plants.

COMMUNICATIONS

Satellites are revolutionizing the communications industry, permitting live TV programs from overseas and opening up more reliable commercial and military telephone links around the world.

Satellite communications —

learned with better computer systems — can speed the apprehension of criminals.

Automatic repeating tape recorders built for the space program are being used in automatic weather broadcasting, museum and public information displays.

NATURAL RESOURCES

Maps of earth have been corrected by satellites. For example, Mt. Siple, a 10,000-foot peak of value as navigation aid in the antarctic region, was found to be 45 miles further west than maps indicated. And one mountain range there, positioned by ground expeditions, was found not to exist at all.

Devices on Nimbus weather satellites will be able to determine the temperature of ocean surfaces telling fishermen where the fish are most likely to be.

Experiments designed to prevent beach erosion at valuable rocket-launch areas at Wallops Station, Va., may lead to better methods of controlling erosion along ocean and lake shores.

Pike Shoe Plant Gets $1 Million Defense Contract

Rep. Paul Findley (R-Pittsfield) announced Friday that a defense contract in the amount of $1,706,900 has been let to the Brown Shoe Company of St. Louis for delivering combat boots to the armed forces.

Work on the contract, which Radior improvements needed to track space ships are helping commercial air-traffic control.

Unmanned landing technology needed to set America's Surveyor spacecraft gently on the moon should produce better systems for blind aircraft landings on earth.

Navigation and weather satellites are providing a traffic control for planes and ship, and warning of weather disturbances en route.

calls for 170,000 pairs of black combat boots, will be done in the company's Pittsfield plant, Findley said.

Findley said that he was notified by the Office of the Secretary of Defense of the contract, awarded by the Defense Personnel Support Center, an activity of the Defense Supply Agency.

JULIE DAVIS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. Lyle Davis, has opened a School of Dance at her home, 727 Lincoln Ave. Classes started on September 6.

Julie is a senior at Jacksonville High School and has been taking dancing lessons since 1952. She started private lessons from Mrs. Nancy Godfrey Sommers in 1955, starting with tap and adding ballet and jazz soon after. Miss Davis has furthered her dancing education by studying in Chicago at such studios as Miss Edna McCrae & Keith Allison, which has recently been changed to the Keith Allison Studio; Ellis & Dubouley of Chicago; and continues to attend the dance conventions in St. Louis and Chicago each year, high school studies permitting.

Miss Davis was a blue ribbon dancer at the Illinois State Fair this past season and also held a job at the Gay 90's Club at the fair. She was an assistant at the Nancy Godfrey School of Dance for five years, teaching in Waverly and Roodhouse as well as the Jacksonville Studio. The public is welcome to visit the Studio any Sunday. Religion Important Say 92% Of Americans

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Ninety-two per cent of Americans regard religion as important, with 70 per cent of the group considering it "very important" and 22 per cent thinking it "fairly important," a national sampling indicates.

The survey, taken for the Catholic Digest magazine by the Gallup public opinion research organization, also turned up these other findings:

Concern for religion is greatest in medium-sized cities, of 25,000 to 100,000 population, where 81 per cent of the people consider it "very important."

In large metropolitan cities, of more than a million population, only 65 per cent rate religion "very important." The figure ranges upward as the city size declines.

About 78 per cent of those over 65 canvassed consider religion very important. Only 57 per cent of the 18-24 age group consider religion of prime importance.

More dark-skinned people, 80 per cent, rate religion very important than do whites, 69 per cent. More women, 80 per cent, also do so than men, 63 per cent.

In the poll, a cross-section of American adults was asked:

"How important would you say religion is in your own life — very important, fairly important, or not very important?" The findings indicated the percentage of the general population considering religion "very important," 70 per cent, was down 5 per cent from what it was in 1952.

However, the number considering religion "fairly important," was up slightly from 20 per cent 14 years ago, to 22 per cent now.

The percentage saying religion was "not very important" was up 2 per cent — to 7 per cent.

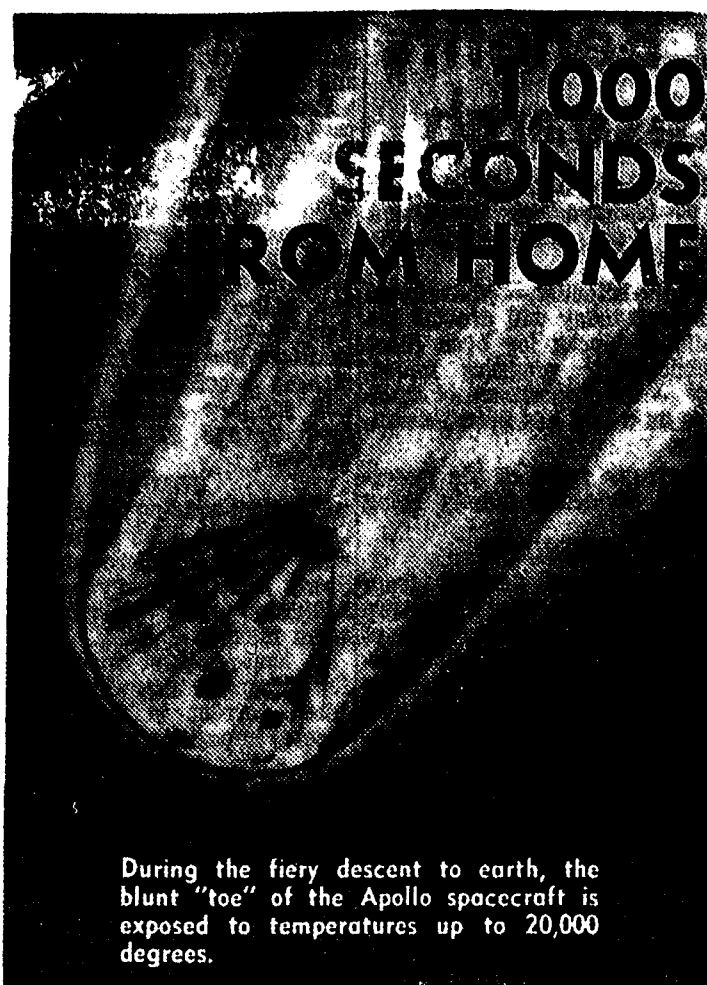

Manners Make Friends

Living with People

A book borrowed should be a book returned.

Rudyard Kipling was born Dec. 30, 1865.

During the fiery descent to earth, the blunt "toe" of the Apollo spacecraft is exposed to temperatures up to 20,000 degrees.

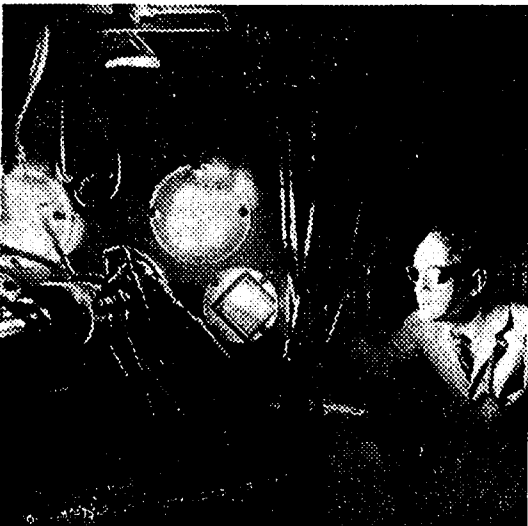

Plummeting rowars earth at 25,000 miles per hour, three American astronauts on the first manned Apollo flight will begin the final and most dangerous lap of their history-making journey when they enter the atmosphere at 400,000 feet above the planet's surface. For 16 minutes the passage through the heat barrier will expose the spacecraft to metal-melting temperatures. To guarantee safe passage, a special honeycomb heat shield has been developed. It already has passed its first test with flying colors in the launching of an unmanned Apollo capsule.

The honeycomb is positioned over the aluminum cockpit and the inner smooth stainless steel heat shield. Each of the 370,000 cells is then filled by hand with resin.

Laboratory simulation of re-entry conditions enables technicians at Avco Corp., Wilmington, Mass., developers of the shield, to test behavior of the shield.

Subjected to an inferno of 20,000 degrees, a sample shield the size of a baseball bat drips as it absorbs the intense heat to prevent it from reaching and melting the inner heat shield and cockpit.

The heat shield consumes itself in withstanding the high re-entry temperatures. The fused resin is captured in the still-intact honeycomb cell system.

How would you and your favorite partner go about the business of getting to the clinch grand slam in spades shown in today's hand?

It is rather easy if you open with two diamonds. East will overcall with two hearts and after South bids two spades North can simply raise to three spades to see what will happen. South will cue bid hearts and North will jump to the grand slam.

The trouble with that method is that, while it is simple, it requires North to open with an unsound two bid. He has a good hand but only 15 high card points and lots of gaps in his spade suit.

The bidding in the box shows how experts get there by the use of a special convention.

North's five spade bid illustrates this. He wants to be in seven if his partner can take the first heart trick and in six if his partner can take the second one.

On the other hand it is possible for South to hold all sorts of good hands with two quick heart losers. In all those instances North wants to stop at five.

South could have bid seven spades right over five but saw no reason to do more than show his ace of hearts. North's failure to bid the grand slam was not an example of passing the buck. North reasoned that his partner might hold something in clubs instead of the king of spades. He also felt sure that South would go on to seven with a decent spade suit and South did not disappoint him.

CHORD SENSE

You, South, hold:
♠AK 7 6 5 ♥A 2 ♦6 ♣AK 7 4 3
As dealer, what do you bid?
A—Bid one club. This hand is not worth an opening bid of two but you do want to be sure that you won't be dropped at one. You might be dropped at one spade. You won't be dropped at one club.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You bid one club. Your partner responds one heart. What do you do now?

Answer May Be Big Factor In Voting Results

Farmers' Income Really Better?

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm leaders are in sharp disagreement over whether farmers' income really has improved during the Kennedy-Johnson administration. The issue may figure large in farm area voting next month.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has been making many speeches in political-critical farm areas, contending that administration farm policies have lifted agriculture to a favorable economic plateau. Some farm groups, including the National Farmers Union and the National Grange, support him.

But Republicans and some other farm groups, including the big American Farm Bureau Federation, argue that Freeman is wrong.

It was against this background that a top-ranking Agriculture Department official resigned early this week and blasted Freeman. The dissident official claimed farmers have had their "worst five years" under Freeman.

The official, Frank M. Le Roux, was general sales manager of the Agriculture Department's surplus commodity sales program. He said he quit because Freeman was using his powers to lower farm prices and to curry favor of the more politically powerful consumer vote. Le Roux, a northwestern rancher and businessman, has been a life-long Democrat.

There is general agreement among all concerned that farmers' total net income last year was about $14.2 billion. Net income is what's left after expenses of production are paid.

But there is wide disagreement in interpreting the income figures as they relate to the changing value of the dollar and the rising investment of farmers in their business. In terms of total dollars, the 1965 farm income was the largest since 1951, when it was reported at $14.8 billion. The record was $17.1 billion in 1947, when farm prices still felt the influence of World War II and postwar demands.

Le Roux pointed out that the dollar has been declining in value since the Korean War and will not buy as much now as it did two, five, 10 or 20 years ago.

Le Roux also argued that in comparing farm income with past years, the declining value of the dollar should be taken into account.

Government reports show that farm income exceeded last year's total only four times in the past — in 1946, 1947, 1949 and 1951. But when past farm incomes are translated into 1965 dollars, there were 13 previous years when farm income exceeded that of last year. The peak was $22.7 billion in 1946.

Critics of Freeman's income claims also say that he fails to relate farm income under his administration to the character of agriculture's rapidly rising capitalization.

For example, a farmer needs more income just to break even when his capital structure increases. That is, the larger the investment, the more he needs to set aside for interest before calculating his income for labor, management, etc.

Government reports put agriculture's capitalization at $138.4 billion in 1951. This had risen to $200.3 billion in 1965, an increase of 45 per cent. Thus, agriculture would need a 45 per cent greater return for interest in 1965 just to remain even with 1951 in income for labor, management, etc.

Deducting this increase in interest in 1965 over 1951, the difference in the actual income of the two years is much wider and much less favorable for 1965 than the simple income figures indicate.

In this connection, Agriculture Department statistics put the average income per farm in 1965 at $4,210 and the average investment per farm at $59,- 349. On this basis, the average income per farm would return 7 per cent investment on the farm and nothing for labor, management, etc.

By comparison, the statistics show that in 1951, the average farm income was $2,727 and the average investment was $25,497. Thus, such an income — while considerably lower than the average for 1965 — was sufficient to return 10.7 per cent on the investment.

What happens, of course, is that farmers use their income for living and get little or no actual return on their investment.

The automobile starter was patented in 1902.

Plaque For Isle

The Pilot Club of Jacksonville, Mayor Byron Holkenbrink and the Citizens of Jacksonville welcomed one of our native sons back home on September 19th when Bob Isle appeared here with the United States Marine Band.

Isle was presented with a plaque recognizing his achievement of a childhood ambition which was to be a member of this famous band.

In the absence of Mayor Holkenbrink who was responsible for having the plaque made, Dr. Henry Busche made the presentation.

The plaque read: Presented to Robert Isle U.S.M.C. Member "The President's Own" U.S. Marine Band in recognition of Outstanding achievement—Byron Holkenbrink, Mayor in cooperation with Pilot Club of Jacksonville, Illinois—September 19, 1966.

Illinois Prairie
Girl Scout Council News

An orientation for all new Girl Scout leaders was held October 3rd at the Girl Scout Office. Lois Freeman, Executive Director, told the women about the beginning of scouting, and also of the general makeup of the organization.

The national founder was Juliette Low, who brought scouting to the United States from England. The national Girl Scout organization was founded in 1912, incorporated in 1913. Congress issued to the Girl Scouts in 1950 the second National Charter ever given to a youth group. There are over 3 million Girl Scouts in the U.S., with slightly more than 1 million of them in the Midwest.

In 1919 the first troop ever to be organized for handicapped girls was formed at the School for the Deaf, here in Jacksonville.

It was in 1937 that the Jacksonville Girl Scout Council was formed with the late Dr. Mary Louise Newman as first organizer and Commissioner.

The Illinois Prairie Girl Scout Council was formed in 1950, encompassing the counties of Cass, Greene, Morgan, and Scott. Every registered adult within this area is a member of the council. This council is subdivided into three neighborhoods to provide further services for the leaders.

Our council is one of many for the leaders throughout the U.S. These councils are grouped into 12 regions: Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin make up Region VII.

The local council meets annually each November to conduct necessary business and to elect officers for the Board of Directors. This Board consists of a President, two vice-presidents, a secretary, and a treasurer. There are five members-at-large, most of whom represent outlying communities. The committees of the Board are responsible for planning and carrying out many of the activities in Scouting.

The program committee's job is to see that the Girl Scout program is being used by all the troops. They plan and carry out special programs, such as Rally Day, the annual Council meeting, events during Girl Scout week, and special council-wide programs.

The camp committee must work closely with the camp director to plan and carry out all camping within the council; to provide a site and necessary equipment for camping; and to

Gold Jewelry Blazes
Bright in Fashion

Beautiful, sunny gold has been the world's most precious metal for thousands of years. And this year, gold jewelry is up at the top of the list for glamour, distinctiveness and sheer beauty.

The reason for all the excitement in karat gold jewelry this season, reports the Jewelry Industry Council, is due to two factors: the use of new combinations of precious and semi-precious stones and the new and fabulous textures of the gold itself in the finished jewelry.

Diamonds, of course, have been and always will be the favorite stone in gold jewelry, but some of the most unusual and beautiful combinations this Fall and Winter are coral and diamonds, diamonds and emeralds, diamonds and turquoise, all colorful and glamorous.

The textures and finishes in gold jewelry run the gamut of unusual and fabulous effects. Detailed intricacy and delicate third dimension make the gold seem light in both weight and color. Textures and depth give high and low overtones of light, and the sparkle of individually-set precious and semi-precious stones adds a bright airiness to the new and finely wrought designs. Florentine, matt and brush finishes have been joined by frosty, nuggety, mossy, even seashell, textured finishes that add a soft look to precious jewelry.

Green gold, new last season, continues to grow in popularity and in the new finishes creates a lovely, deep, soft, almost luscious look. This season's exciting new gold jewelry, the Council says, brings beauty and fashion to every woman.

ONE MAN'S DISASTER is playtime for others. A Vietnamese man carries his bicycle through the swirling floodwaters of the Mekong River past two children apparently unaware of the rising water's menace to their village near the Cambodian border.

State Baptist Convention Set
In Ashland

ASHLAND — The Golden Age Fellowship, West Central Association, Illinois Baptist State convention will meet in Ashland Baptist church on Thursday, Oct. 15th.

The following program will be given:

Registration will be at 9:30 a.m.; morning worship at 10:45 a.m.; organ prelude — Mrs. Richard Ballance; introductions — Mrs. Clement Andrus; invocation — Rev. Audy Burklow, pastor of local Baptist church; scripture and prayer, Rev. Harris Paulson; special music, Ashland Church; meditation, Rev. F. V. Wright of Winchester, a former pastor, now retired.

A luncheon will be served at 12:15 p.m. Group singing led by Rev. William Boston, will open the afternoon session.

Recognition will be given to the oldest woman, oldest man, couple married the longest, person with the longest period of church membership.

Rev. Jack Brown, pastor of Kane Baptist church, will give the address, after which the program will close with prayer and benediction.

There will be a display (hobby) in the west room of the church.

The Singspiration being held at the Faith Tabernacle Church has been changed from Tuesday night to Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m. every week. Prayer meeting each Tuesday evening is being held in the trailer home of the pastor in order to conserve on utilities.

The church will hold a revival beginning Oct. 24th.

Mrs. Dorothy Taylor, a member of the local Woman's Club will give a talk on "If My Dining Room Table Could Talk" at the Tallula Woman's Club meeting to be held Tuesday evening, Oct. 11th, in the Tallula Christian Church.

The Loyal Workers class of the First Baptist church met Thursday evening in the church basement. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Helen Farmer.

Mrs. Almeda Watkins had charge of the devotions, and Mrs. Ethel Spicer conducted several contests. Roll call was answered by describing "Your New Fall Hat."

Delicious refreshments were served to 11 members by the hostesses, Mrs. Helen Farmer and Miss Roby Savage.

further the out-of-doors for all Girl Scouts.

The personnel committee sees that the office is adequately staffed, and hires the Executive Director.

The public relations committee has the responsibility of presenting the word and image of Girl Scouting to the public and so promote a better relationship between the community and the council office.

The finance committee sees to the budget and what major purchases are necessary; helps with representing Girl Scouting for the United Fund in Morgan County; and helps to promote a fund drive in the other three counties in the Council.

The five members-at-large help plan for special events, or may be assigned to committees to advise and assist.

The three neighborhood chairmen also serve on the Board of Directors.

Serving as an ex-officio member of the Board is the nominating committee. They must present a slate of officers and committee chairman at the annual council meeting.

This year's annual Council-wide meeting will be held Nov. 2nd at Central Christian Church, Jacksonville.

In our Council we have over 1250 registered girls and about 250 registered adults. There are about 75 troops, with more in the process of organizing. A Brownie troop may have from 16-20 girls for two leaders. The Junior or Cadette troop may have as many as 32 members.

Several schools in Jacksonville are without the necessary leadership for troops. South Jacksonville, Salem Lutheran, Washington, and Our Saviour's all need Junior leaders. Lincoln needs an assistant leader for one Junior troop.

Several training workshop dates have been changed; the Junior Leader workshop will be October 13th, instead of the 10th. The Brownie model meeting will be on the 13th instead of the 12th.

Thirty-two leaders and assistant leaders attended this first orientation workshop. We welcome you all. The workshop will be repeated on November 7th.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market took one of its worst beatings of the year this week as it fell for the third straight week.

Volume rose to 35,544,820 shares from 28,580,571 last week.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 29.90 to 744.32, the lowest level since Nov. 27, 1963 when it was 741.0. Monday's decline pushed the average below its previous yearly low of 767.03 made on Aug. 29. Some analysts believed this might be a support level, but it proved very fragile.

The week's decline was the worst since the week ended Aug. 20 when the Dow fell 35.91.

It was by far the worst week of 1966 for the once high-flying glamor stocks.

Xerox, beset by reports of increasing competition in the office copying field, plunged 42½ points to 132½. Fairchild Camera lost 31½ to 101¼. It dropped 23½ to 63½. KLM Airlines lost 25½ points. Burroughs 14½, General Instrument 13½, SCM Corp. 15½, Pan American World Airways 9½.

Of 1,574 issues traded this week 1,292 fell and 191 rose.

The downward pace was even faster, because it was so unanimous. On the rise, there was a rotation of stock to stock. They all did not advance together but they retreated together.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 10.2 this week to 269.4, its lowest since Aug. 2, 1963 when it was 268.8.

The market declined every day of the week except Tuesday.

The most-active issue this week on the New York Stock Exchange was Sperry Rand, off 6½ to 21½ on 1,070,100 shares.

The bond market continued to advance generally but gains in governments and municipals were smaller than last week.

GRAIN FUTURES OFF IN WEEKLY TRADING

CHICAGO (AP)—Speculators in the grain futures market had the trade largely to themselves this week and they drove it into broad declines.

Although prices showed a little firming tendency late in the period, dealers said that was largely a technical reaction and they saw little likelihood of a sustained rally without the help of a greatly improved commercial business, especially in large quantities for export.

Bookings abroad provided nothing more than temporary support and that was confined largely to wheat. However, analysts said the trade seemed to have given up any hope that it would advance.

With the soybean harvest moving toward its peak and predicted at another record peak, speculators expect a long period of rather heavy hedge selling. Actually, pressure on that account contributed to a good deal of the weakness at midweek while the market still awaited commercial buying.

Analysts said there was a fairly general belief among speculators that in view of the good yield, prices still are much too high and that better opportunities to acquire large supplies will come within the next couple weeks or so.

However, there was a good deal of talk that although prices still are well above a year ago the producers, like the wheat growers, are determined to shipments in that direction during the year will come anywhere near the total of the previous crop year which ended July 1.

A new crop report from Canada and semi-official advice from Russia along with indications of a greatly increased U.S. acreage for harvest next year were decidedly bearish influences. Two of the contracts being traded, the July and September, are new crop months and must reflect, brokers said, a larger supply then.

The new Canadian report estimated the yield there at a whopping 840 million bushels, by far a record, and the Russian crop is well above yields of recent years.

some selected officers in advisory and staff positions in the various services would serve up to two years, double the normal tour. Officials here, however, emphasized that the officers—said to number only a few score—had agreed to stay on and were not ordered to do so. The policy does not apply to enlisted men.

The Navy's decision to permit passed-over officers to stay in command affects both regular and reserve commanders, lieutenant commanders and lieutenants who normally would be retired or released by next June.

Officials said these officers now would remain on the job at least through June, 1968.

"This is a relatively new concept," one senior officer said. "We're attempting to raise the experience."

The new order makes clear what many officers have been saying privately for months: The critical shortage of senior officers will continue for at least two more years because of unsatisfactory retention rates. Recent statistics show that about one in three officers decides to stay on in the service.

Although no specific figures are available, the Navy is known to be short 4,500 officers—about 43 per cent—in the top ranks of the submarine and surface line services.

The Winchester Evening Unit of Morgan-Scott Homemakers Extension will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Temple Grout. She will be assisted by Mrs. Roy Weder and Mrs. Roger Gordley.

Mrs. Melvin Schnack will present the major lesson, "Have You Wondered?" The selected subject, "What Do You Know About 4-H?", will be given by Mrs. Murie Dolen, unit 4-H chairman.

Plan Camp-Out

Boy Scout Troop 142 is planning a camp-out October 15 and 16 at New Salem State Park. The boys will meet at the American Legion Hall and depart at 9 a.m. Saturday. William Patton, scoutmaster, is seeking volunteer drivers.

On Sunday, parents are welcome to take a picnic dinner and join the group. Parents are also welcome to join in the camp-out Saturday night.

Mission Circle Meets

The afternoon mission circle of the First Baptist church met Thursday afternoon at the church.

The president, Mrs. Helen G. Smith, conducted the meeting. Reports of the various chairmen: Mrs. C.L. McLaughlin, Mrs. Ezra Little, Mrs. Paul Steckel, Mrs. Truman Scott, Mrs. Mildred Clark, Mrs. Francis Schaefer and Mrs. Dave Welch, were heard.

Mrs. Henry Boester, in charge of the love gift, reviewed the purpose of the gift and dedicated it with a prayer.

Mrs. Dave Welch reported on White Cross and told the group she would host a work-day at her home Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Richard Blackburn was named to serve as secretary, replacing Mrs. Everett Tankersley who resigned.

School Menu

Monday — Wieners on bun, baked beans, lettuce wedge with French dressing, bread, butter, milk and peaches.

Tuesday — Chipped beef and macaroni, buttered peas, hot roll, butter, milk and fruit jello.

Wednesday — Pork cutlets, mashed potatoes, spinach, bread, butter, milk and fruit jello.

Thursday — Hamburger on bun, potato chips green beans, catsup, mustard, pickle, milk and cookies.

Friday — Fish sticks, combination salad, buttered corn, bread, butter, milk and apple crisp.

Among those attending the Morgan-Scott Extension's annual meeting in Jacksonville were Mrs. Joe Worrell, Mrs. Dave Welch, Mrs. Olin Clark, Mrs. Herman Weder, Mrs. Olyv Woodall, Mrs. Clyde North, Mrs. Edward Wild, Mrs. George Lashmett, Mrs. Richard Hembrough, Mrs. Clement Anders, Mrs. Murie Dolen, Mrs. Harold Lee Fearneyhough and Mrs. Robert Worrell.

Mr. and Mrs. A.P. Hartman and children of Champaign are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Graybael, this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Addison Scott and family are visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Scott and family in Milwaukee, Wis.

Mr. Albert Herring is a patient at Holy Cross hospital.

the United Nations to get the Soviet Union to join in reconvening the Geneva Conference for peace negotiations on Viet Nam.

President Ferdinand E. Marcos of the Philippines, back in Manila from a tour of the United States and Japan, told news-men efforts had been made for some time to establish lines of communication with Hanoi to end the war and he was certain these efforts would succeed.

Archbishop Sergio Pignedoli and his Vatican mission took off for Rome to report to Pope Paul VI on findings from an 11-day visit with Roman Catholic and governmental leaders in Saigon.

Vatican sources said the archbishop's specific assignment had been to inform South Viet Nam's Catholics that the Pope wanted them to cooperate with the Buddhist majority in all efforts to promote peace negotiations.

The estimate now is that the 117-member assembly elected Sept. 11 to write the new Constitution won't start that job until late this month. With other affairs engaging their attention, the delegates have not even elected assembly officers.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks for the many kindnesses extended to us during our recent bereavement, the death of Chas. A. Race. We especially wish to thank our minister, the staff of Passavant hospital, those who sent flowers and all who assisted in any way.

Allen Has Rams Playing His Tune

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
Sports Editor

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
LOS ANGELES, Calif.—(NEA)—Bill George, who has been playing professional football for 15 years and reacts as spryly as ever, described pithily what it meant to be part of a defensive unit which is fronted by a line that weighs in at 272 pounds per man.

"They keep those little bitty blockers off me," said middle linebacker Bill, "so I can get the big, bad ball carriers."

That frontal four of the Los Angeles Rams consists of, left to right, Deacon Jones, 261; Merlin Olsen, 276; Roosevelt Grier, 290; and Lamar Rudolph, 260. The weights might even be shaded a trifle low.

The San Francisco 49ers, who have four sizable running backs, assaulted that front 19 times most recently and came away with a net gain of 53 yards and a total of three points for the evening.

Los Angeles, which used to collect quarterback sacks like Tommy Manville wives and was as offense-conscious as a Hollywood producer chasing the starlet around his desk, has suddenly started applauding defense. This is a new experience to Merlin Olsen, the bull-like tackle who has received All-Pro acclaim on his own but hasn't had the satisfaction of playing on a winning team in his four full years as a Ram (Los Angeles, in fact, hasn't had a winning season since 1958).

George Allen, the new coach, is the architect of the emphasis on defense, which was his specialty as an assistant with the Chicago Bears.

"He brought us a defensive plan that had worked," said Olsen. "He also brought in help—a new set of linebackers (George, Maxie Baughan and Jack Padree, who had retired two years ago), and a new corner back in Ivy Cross.

"Right from the start, it wasn't a feeling like you get with a new coach, 'this is a building year.'"

"Instead, it was, 'THIS is our year.'"

The revitalized Rams won three of their first four games, losing only to the Green Bay Packers in a close tussle. Olsen tries hard not to be carried away with the optimism that has pervaded Southern California.

"We're not an old, established winner yet," he said. "It's not ingrained in us. We've got to work at it."

"On defense, there are two ways to go when the other team has third down and one. You can pull together to try to stop them or you can concentrate on your own job. With us, it used to be every man for himself rather than a team effort. This is what happens on a losing team. Maybe, subconsciously, I might not have been bearing down like I should have."

"This attitude can creep in to good football teams, too. I think San Francisco's having that trouble now."

The intriguing part of professional football is how a team can be psyched into believing in itself. The Green Bay Packers were losers when Vince Lombardi arrived on the scene in 1959 and in less than one season turned them around into a mentally tough unit that started a winning heritage, using the material that was left over.

The Rams show all the symptoms of doing the same kind of turnaround under Allen, who's a cheerleader type on the sidelines, waving his fists, exhorting the players, exhorting them.

"They've even adopted the taunting ditty first featured on national television in 1963 when the world champion Bears saluted Allen's role as their defensive strategist. It's the first thing the Rams sing when they return to the dressing room a winner."

Like Lombardi, Allen inherited a sound core of talent—chiefly, that fantastic front four on the defensive line. It has been playing together five seasons now. Olsen and Deacon Jones, the end who plays alongside him, are All-Pro types.

"You check it," said Olsen. "For every great tackle, there's a great end next to him."

Shaw, Saukees Rip Porta, 41-0

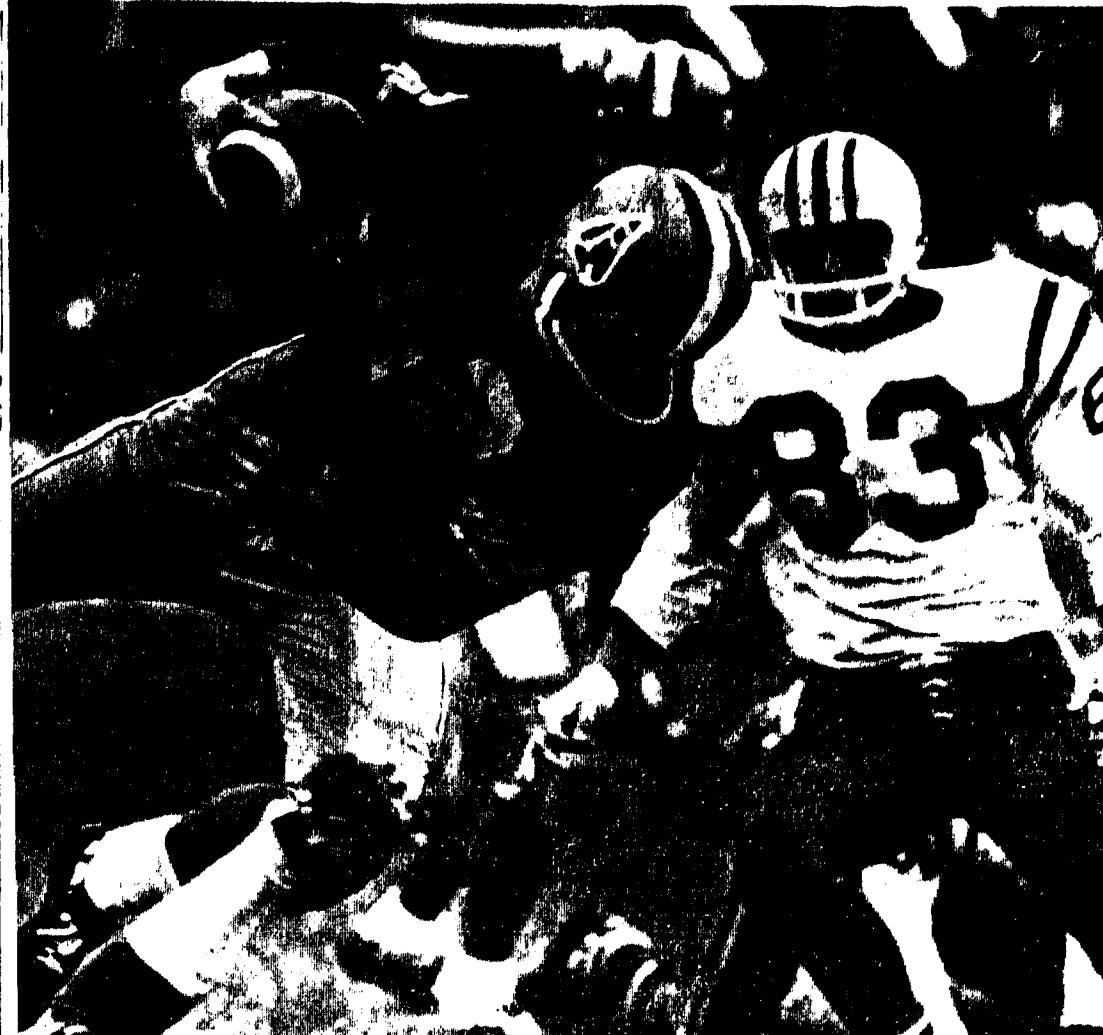

PETERSBURG — Steve Shaw scored three touchdowns to lead undefeated Pittsfield to a 41-0 romp over Porta, here Friday night. Pittsfield is now 4-0 while Porta fell to 0-4.

Shaw scored on a six-yard run in the first quarter, on a 12-yard scamper in the second frame and returned an intercepted pass 42 yards in the third.

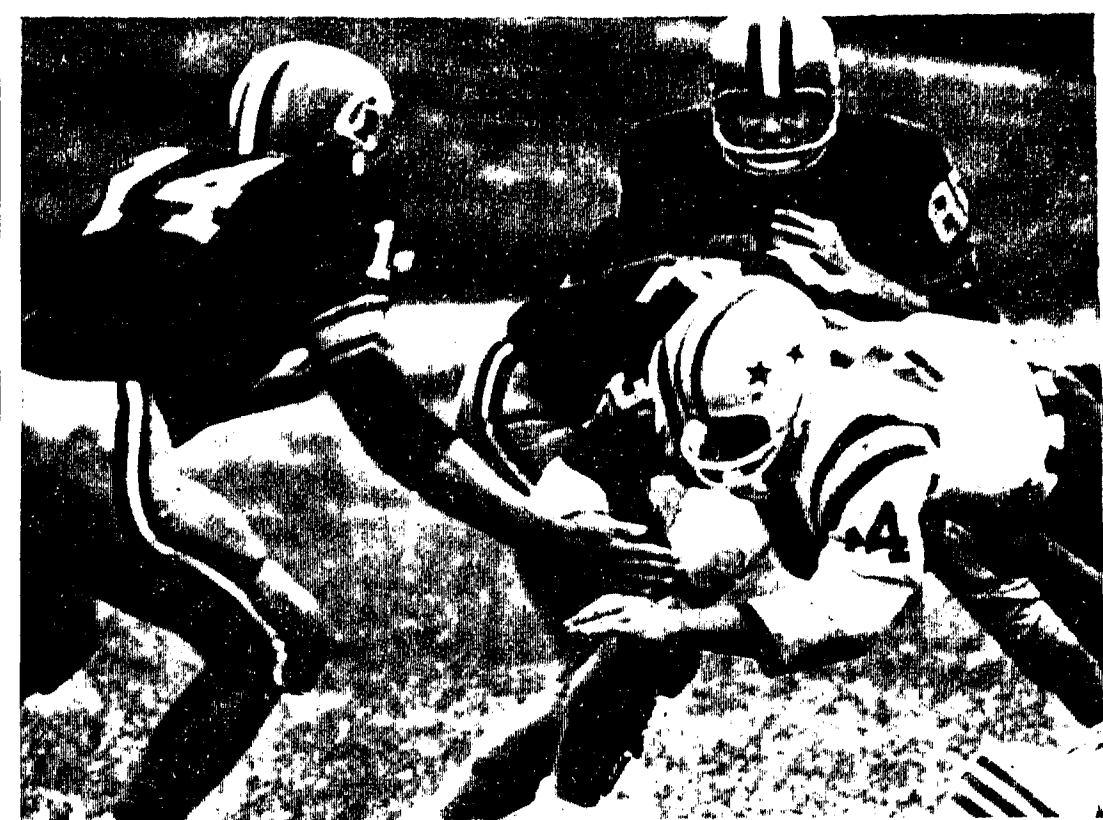

Other Saukee scores came on a nine-yard carry by Mark Beattie in the second; on an 18-yard carry by John McMakin in the third and on a 15-yard run by Ron Mook in the fourth. Dave Shaw booted three PATs while Steve Shaw ran one and Donny Mason one.

The tough Pittsfield defense, which has allowed just 13 points in four games, held Porta outside its 40 all evening.

Score by Quarters:
Porta 0 0 0 0—0

GOING DOWN: Principia's David Neal is tripped up by an unidentified IC tackler while Blueboy Ed Price (83) comes up to make the stopper on this pass play. Neal scored later on a 61-yard pass play as Prin whopped IC 48-7.

SWARMED: IC's Tom Rowland is swarmed by three Principia tacklers on this off-tackle slant. Rowland picked up 76 yards but Principia rolled to a 48-7 margin over the Blueboys. Prin tacklers are, l-r, Doug Linton, Ron White and Greg Arthur.

Notre Dame Smashes Cadets Early, 35-0

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Third-ranked Notre Dame scored five times in the first half as Terry Hanratty hit Jim Seymour with eight passes for 143 yards, then flooded the field with subs to smash Army 35-0 Saturday.

It was the Cadets' worst licking by the Irish in 38 meetings of the traditional rivalry and left Notre Dame with a 26-8-4 record.

It also helped atone for the biggest beating ever administered by Army in the Glenn Davis-Doc Blanchard era of 1944. The triumph was Notre Dame's third of the season while outgunned Army, whose deepest penetration against the Irish first stringers was to the 35, absorbed its first defeat in four starts.

In the opening half explosion, Notre Dame's five scoring shots covered a total of 251 yards in 31 plays, an average of better than eight per play.

Get On Board Early
In the early minutes, Bob Bleier rammed over from the three to end a 54-yard drive behind the momentum of Hanratty's 19-yard toss to Seymour.

Before the first quarter was over, Notre Dame was cruising 21-0. Pete Duranko recovered Carl Woessner's fumble on the Cadet 33 and on the first play, rookie Hanratty fired a touchdown pass to Seymour.

Later, the Irish went 76 yards in six plays with Hanratty rounding end from the seven to score.

Jim Smithberger's 45-yard runback with a pass interception set up the Irish on the three midway in the second quarter. Nick Eddy blasted across on the first play.

In the final minutes of the period, runs by Eddy and Bleier plus Hanratty's aerials of 17 yards to Curt Heneghan, 15 to Eddy and 13 to Seymour set up Eddy's scoring smash from the three.

ND — Bleier 3 run (Azzaro kick)

ND — Seymour 33 pass from Hanratty (Azzaro kick)

ND — Hanratty 7 run (Azzaro kick)

ND — Eddy 3 run (Azzaro kick)

Warriors Third In 3-Team Meet

IBBSSS finished a close third to Indiana and Missouri in a triangular track meet held in Jacksonville Saturday. Missouri won the meet with 32½ points, followed by Indiana with 30 and Illinois with 25½.

Indiana's Ed Hopkins took four firsts and Missouri's Charles DuBarry took three to lead the individual performances. IBBSSS' top performer was again T.J. Cravens, who garnered 16 points on a first in the standing broad jump, three seconds and a third. Fred Jenkins picked up four points, Steve Baugh three and Steve Brewster 2½.

The local Warriors will run in the conference meet Oct. 14 and 15, at East Lansing, Mich. Baugh will be the only graduation loss to the Warriors next season.

North Central 12, Ill. Wesleyan 7
NAPERVILLE, Ill. (AP) — North Central rallied in the second half Saturday to hand Illinois Wesleyan a 12-7 defeat in a College Conference of Illinois football game.

It was the first CCI loss this season for the defending champion.

Tom Schultz plunged one yard for a North Central touchdown in the third quarter and North Central clinched the victory in the fourth quarter on a 44-yard scoring pass from Luther Selbo to Larry Parks.

Long TD Aerial Lifts Minnesota To 7-7 Loop Tie

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — One big scoring pass by Minnesota's left-handed Larry Carlson matched an afternoon of superb running by Indiana's Mike Krivoshia and the Big Ten football teams tied 7-7 Saturday.

Carlson passed to Hubie Bryant for 32 yards and a touchdown with two minutes left in the first quarter.

The 214-pound Krivoshia plunged the yard for Indiana's touchdown in the first two minutes of the final period. He carried the ball 30 times for 141 yards.

Dave Kornowa, who kicked the Hoosiers' extra point, missed a 37-yard field goal attempt in the final period and Minnesota was getting ready to try one from the Indiana 20 when time ran out.

Three lost ball fumbles helped stall the Hoosiers, who had a 215-66 edge in rushing yardage. Minnesota, which let Indiana have the short passes but batted down most of the long ones, had a 177-142 yardage margin in the air.

Two poor Indiana punts, one of them going only seven yards, helped Minnesota get started on a 72-yard, eight-play scoring drive. Big gainers in the series included a 15-yard run by Curtis Wilson and Carlson passes to Kenny Lust for 12 yards and to Chet Anderson for seven.

Bob Stein, who kicked Minnesota's extra point, also played an outstanding defensive game. Minn — Bryant 32 pass from Carlson (Stein kick)

Ind — Krivoshia 1 plunge (Kornowa kick)

CHICAGO (AP)—Led by Carl Carbone, Illinois at Chicago powered to a 21-2 football victory over Indiana Central Saturday.

Carbone scored two touchdowns and converted three times in the rout. Don Gatkowski put Illinois ahead with a 35-yard run in the first quarter before Carbone made it 14-0 on a four-yard run.

Indiana Central averted a shutout when Steven Schwendenmann nailed an Illinois runner in the end zone to make it 14-2 before Carbone closed out the scoring with a one-yard touchdown plunge in the final period.

Doak Walker is going around to various pro football clubs around the country, studying their operations... probably as preparation for taking over the general manager duties for the Denver Broncos in the near future.

Way to get George Allen of the Rams peevish is to refer to the attack he installed this year as a "horse and buggy" offense.

Leroy Kelly, the sharp young back who's making up the ground that Jimmy Brown's not gaining for the Cleveland Browns this year, was signed to his pro contract by Buddy Young, the old Illinois and Baltimore Colt flash. Buddy was his assigned baby sitter and now works for the league office.

Kelly's smaller, at 205, than the Brown original, but Buddy says he has exactly the same running style—slides, gives 'em a leg and skips over tacklers. "He also can jump four and a half feet on a 'sergeant's jump.'"

Which is a standing jump. Only thing Leroy admits he's borrowed from Brown is the use of a forearm smash to ward off tacklers.

Swiss Sware, now committed entirely to the stock brokerage business after being fired by the Rams, is doing some scouting on the sly for his old team, the Giants.

Another old pro, Hugh McElhenny, is breaking in as a radio color man for the San Francisco 49ers and finds the hardest part of his job is keeping from what he'd really like to say—he might hurt somebody's feelings. Mac was reminiscing about his long runs from scrimmage and noted that one year he scored nine touchdowns lugging the ball, but also had six others called back on penalties.

—and all of them were runs of 50 yards or more.

Player Captures World Match Title

VIRGINIA WATER, Eng. (AP) — Gary Player of South Africa defeated Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, for the world match play golf title Saturday in a 36-hole final that was marked by so much temperament that the referee withdrew midway in the morning round.

Player, the defending champion, won 6 and 4 and held a 4-up margin after the first 18 holes, during which Nicklaus' anger at an adverse ruling caused referee Tony Duncan to quit.

The incident happened at the 460-yard ninth hole. Nicklaus, only 1-down at the time, hooked his shot into the rough.

When he reached his ball he asked the referee for a free drop, claiming that a cigarette billboard some 60 yards away interfered with his line of sight to the green. When Duncan, former British Walker Cup player, refused, Nicklaus argued with him. Finally he shot, then conceded the hole to Player's par 4.

Get New Referee
At the next hole Duncan asked Nicklaus if he wanted a new referee and the 1966 Masters and British Open champion snarled "yes." Gerald Micklem, former chairman of the Royal and Ancient Championship Committee, stepped out of the JERSEYVILLE — A 34-scoring pass from Bob Kinkin to Allan Culp with only four minutes left in the game carried undefeated Staunton to a 20-13 victory over Jerseyville, here Saturday night.

Jerseyville jumped off to a 6-0 margin in the opening quarter with Jess Hamblen breaking loose on a 35-yard scamper. Staunton took a 7-6 halftime lead with Larry Kleenman plunging two yards for six points.

Staunton scored to go ahead in the third with Kinkin going over 20 yards away on a fumble recovery. Jerseyville rallied to tie the game early in the fourth when Mike Hughes scored on a 13-yard pass from quarterback Stan McGarvey and Tom Roady booted the point after.

Staunton is 4-0, while Jerseyville is still winless after four outings.

Do Or Die For Bears In NFL Play

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

The time is at hand for the Chicago Bears if they are going to be a serious threat for the Western Conference championship of the National Football League.

George Halas' club, which edged Minnesota 13-10 last weekend for its first victory in three games, opens a make-or-break, three-game home stand this Sunday.

The Bears' first opponent will be the Baltimore Colts, followed by defending NFL champion Green Bay Oct. 16 and the much improved Los Angeles Rams Oct. 23.

Chicago went 45 yards in three plays for the winning touchdown late in the game against Minnesota, prompting quarterback Rudy Bukich to say:

May Be Ready

"The emotion, the lift was there. It could do it for us. We may be ready to go now."

Last year, the Bears lost their first three games, then won nine of the next 11. They finished third in the West but had a chance for first until the final weekend of the season.

In other Sunday games, Green Bay is at San Francisco, Los Angeles plays at Detroit, Philadelphia visits Dallas, New York invades St. Louis and Atlanta goes to Washington.

Pittsburgh met the Browns in Cleveland Saturday night. Minnesota is not scheduled this weekend.

In the American Football League, San Diego played at New York, Boston was at Buffalo and Denver at Kansas City Saturday night. Miami plays at Oakland Sunday. Houston has a bye.

Have To Score More
The Bears not only have to score more — they've netted only 33 points in three games — but they also will have to turn in a strong defensive game to get by the Johnny Unitas-led Colts who have won two straight after an opening game loss to Green Bay. Baltimore was off last Sunday.

Green Bay shouldn't have too much trouble at San Francisco. The Packers, with Bart Starr leading the league in passing and Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung looking good, have rolled to four straight victories, while the 49ers have lost two and tied one.

Los Angeles will be looking to get back on the winning track at Detroit. The Rams, who won three before losing to Green Bay last Sunday, have the league's third leading rusher in Dick Bass, who also has scored six touchdowns. The Lions have been an up-and-down team, upsetting Chicago and being upset by Pittsburgh in posting a 2-2 record.

Rely on Meredith
Dallas, 3-0 in the Eastern Conference, again will rely on the passing of Don Meredith to a corps of outstanding receivers, including fleet Bob Hayes, and the running of Dan Reeves against Philadelphia. The Eagles, 2-2, were crushed 41-10 last Sunday by Eastern leader St. Louis.

St. Louis figures to keep its record unblemished against hapless New York, which has lost three and tied one. The Cardinals have a top notch defensive unit, and with quarterback Charley Johnson healthy, they are showing the offensive punch predicted of them in past years.

Atlanta will have to stop the passing of Sonny Jurgensen, who is particularly adept at throwing the bomb, and the running of Charley Taylor if it is to notch its first regular season victory. The expansion Falcons are 0-4. Washington is 2-2.

Fan On His Back
During the 1940 season, Magerkurth was photographed on his back with a Brooklyn Dodger fan pounding him.

His wife, Minnie, remembered, "There was a fight and someone knocked Mager down. I just thought he'd be all right and take care of himself." Magerkurth, 6 feet 3 and 225 pounds, had weathered 62 prize fights during his lean years between 1910 and 1920 to eke out his baseball season pay which began at $80 a month — in season only.

He was with the National League from 1922 to 1948 when his dashed up legs forced him to retire. He worked four World Series — those of 1932, 1936, 1942 and 1947.

Authority On Ruth Homer Dead At 76

MOLINE, Ill. (AP) — George Magerkurth, the one-time National League umpire who died Friday at the age of 76, is best remembered as the authority for the story that Babe Ruth called his home run shot off the Cubs' Charley Root in a 1932 World Series game.

Like most things that a lot of people watch, but don't see, the famous Ruth gesture and its meaning were challenged for years afterward.

Even the record books were hauled out to demonstrate that Roy Van Graflan, not Magerkurth, was working home plate. The Mage was listed second, indicating the first base post, with Bill Deneed and Bill Clem in the other spots.

"I was at the plate," the big, burly Magerkurth, argued, "right behind Ruth and Hartnett."

Cub Catcher Leo (Gabby) Hartnett, himself, said that Ruth "took two called strikes, and after each one the bench jockeys gave him the business. Babe waved his hand across the plate toward the Cubs' bench on the third base line and said, 'It takes only one to hit it.'"

But Magerkurth said, "The Babe called the shot." And that was that as far as he was concerned.

The Mage was used to argument from ballplayers. It was in that same game, the third of the series which the Yankees won 7-5, that he had trouble with Ruth.

Ruth had poled a home run into the stands and started around the bases. Magerkurth recalled. But he stopped just past third and gave the Cubs on the bench a deliberate Bronx cheer, cupping his hands to his mouth.

"He was mad, too, about the deal the Cub shortstop, Mark Koenig, was getting in the series—a half share, although Ruth felt Koenig had helped them a lot to win the National League championship. So he started a tirade about them being so cheap to Koenig," Magerkurth related later.

Been Out too Long
"I knew he was staying at third too long for any good, and I told him to come in; he'd been there long enough."

"Well, he did. But he kept haranguing after he got home. I told him to pipe down because the Judge (Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis) was right behind him."

"He hollered, 'To hell with the judge and the Cubs and anybody else. I'm going to have my say, and I don't give a damn what it costs me.' I finally got him to go back to the bench."

The Mage had a number of run-ins, and even a few knockouts during his colorful career. Some of them were with Leo Durocher, the present manager of the Cubs.

Baltimore Pitching Continues Mastery

BALTIMORE (AP) — Paul Blair and Wally Bunker, two California schoolboys who escaped the Los Angeles Dodgers net, led the Baltimore Orioles to a third straight World Series victory over the feeble Dodgers Saturday, 1-0, extending their scoreless drought to 24 innings.

Blair, the only man to pass first base against Claude Osteen, went all the way with a 430-foot home run into the left field bleachers in the fifth. It was the last of the three Baltimore hits.

Bunker, picking up where Moe Drabowsky and Jim Palmer left off, mystified the Dodgers with a six-hit shutout.

Baltimore's largest baseball crowd, 54,445, enjoyed the city's first World Series game in bright, warm sunshine at Memorial Stadium.

The defeat left the hapless Dodgers stretched over the ropes, ready for the knockout blow, possibly in a fourth straight game Sunday afternoon. No club in history ever has come back to win after losing the first three.

Blair, a slight 6-foot-170-pounder who has been platooned in center field with Russ Snyder, hammered Osteen's first pitch into the left field customers with two out in the fifth.

Born in Cushing, Okla., but brought up in Los Angeles where he was a schoolboy star at Manual Arts High, Blair was passed up at a Dodger tryout camp and signed with the New York Mets in 1962, only to be lost to Baltimore when he was not protected in the draft.

Bunker in Control
Bunker, on the disabled list from July 27 to Aug. 15 due to tendonitis in his right elbow, was in control all the way, struck out six Dodgers and walked only one. Wes Parker's double to center was the only extra base hit.

The slumping Dodgers now have not scored since the third inning of Wednesday's opening game at Los Angeles. Drabowsky blanked them with one hit for 6 2-3 relief innings, and Palmer shut them out Thursday with four hits.

Bunker's string of nine made it 24 shutout frames, only four short of the Series record of 28 set by the New York Giants in 1905 against the Philadelphia A's.

It was the best since the 26 by the Cincinnati Reds against the old Chicago White Sox in the scandalous Black Sox Series of 1919.

Go Against Experts
The successive shutouts of Palmer and Bunker belied the critics who had made the Dodgers the favorites at the start of the Series on their pitching strength and the poor complete game record of the Orioles staff.

Instead, the Dodgers have not had a complete game while each of the regular starters—Don Drysdale, Sandy Koufax and Osteen—has gone down the drain.

Ironically, this was the first shutout of the season for Bunker, a former star at Capuchino High School in San Bruno, Calif., who signed an Orioles contract for a reported $75,000 bonus in 1963. This was his third year in the majors.

Changes Dodger Lineup
Walter Alston of the Dodgers shook up his lineup for this first game at Baltimore after the damaging six-error performance in the second game.

Hitters Jim Gilliam went to the bench and wicket hitting John Kennedy took over at third base. It didn't do any good. The Dodgers didn't make any errors this time, but they also didn't score any runs.

Hank Bauer's Orioles thus were in the position to close this Series out in four straight Sunday.

The last American League team to do that trick was the New York Yankees of 1950 against the Philadelphia Phillies. The last time it was done in Series play was by the Dodgers against the Yanks in 1963. Only nine Series have ended in four games.

Davis Fails Again
Willie Davis, the goat of the second game with his record-breaking three errors in one inning, came up three times with a man on second base.

In the fourth, he followed Parker, who doubled 1st filed

Stewart's Score Wins For Frosh

DECATUR — Roger Stewart's 70-yard touchdown scamper in the opening quarter carried the Jacksonville High freshman team to a defensive-minded 7-2 victory over the Decatur MacArthur frosh, here Saturday morning.

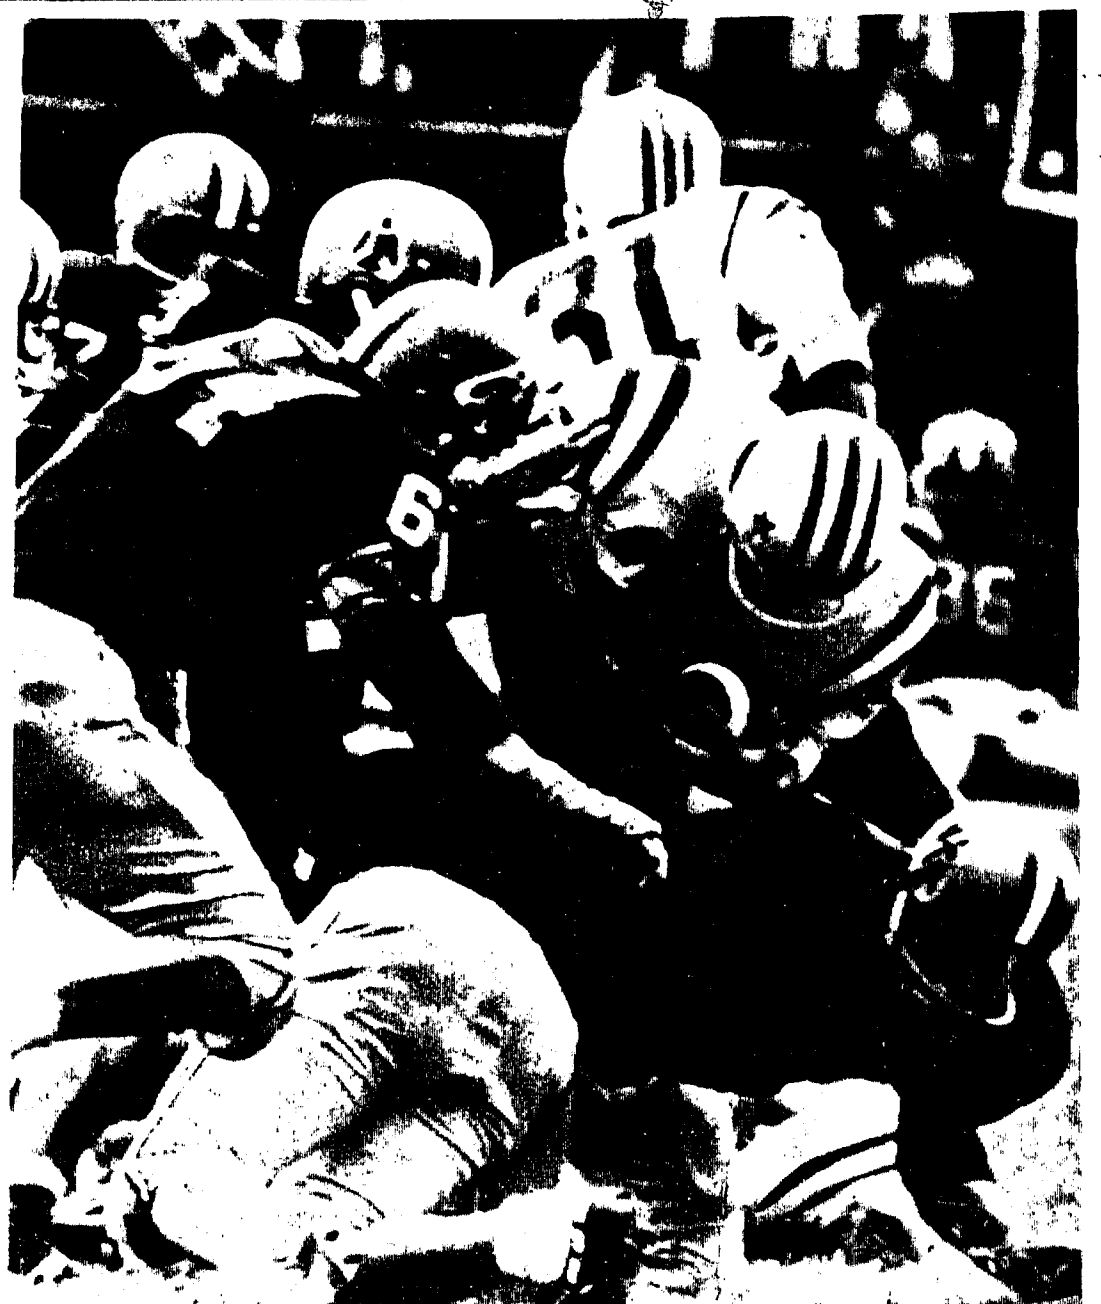

After Stewart broke loose for the TD, and also ran the point after, MacArthur got on the scoreboard in the second period on a safety.

The entire JHS frosh defense stood out, as MacArthur controlled the ball most of the game.

Raye And Spartans Edge Michigan 20-7

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State's fleet quarterback Jimmy Raye scampered for one touchdown and passed for another as the No. 1-ranked Spartans downed a tough Michigan football team 20-7 Saturday.

The Wolverines, a two-touchdown underdog, gave the Spartans a head to head battle in the intrastate Big Ten clash before a record 78,833 fans at Spartan Stadium.

Raye raced around left end midway in the first period for five yards and Michigan State's first score. It came on a 47-yard, seven-play ground attack.

Michigan's sharp shooting passer Dick Vidmer, with Jack Clancy as his favorite target, kept the Wolverines in the game until early in the fourth period when MSU struck for two quick touchdowns.

A 49-yard scamper by Bob Apisa sparked MSU's second scoring march, an 80-yard, six-play drive capped by Apisa's smash for the final six yards.

Michigan State struck again within two minutes. Charlie Thornhill recovered a Michigan fumble on the Wolverine 28. Three plays later, Raye passed 24 yards to Gene Washington for the touchdown. Dick Kenney converted, and MSU had a 20-0 lead.

Michigan's score came late in the final period. The Wolverines

On the next play, Tommy Trantham hauled in a pass from Brittenum in the end zone, but the touchdown was nullified because the Porks had an ineligible receiver downfield.

Blair: Homer Was My Biggest Thrill

BALTIMORE (AP) — Motor Mouth Paul Blair had his day, and he may not stop talking about it until spring training begins in Florida next February.

"I should have started this earlier," Blair quipped after hitting a fifth inning home run which gave the Baltimore Orioles a 1-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Saturday and a 3-0 lead in the World Series.

"That was the best thrill of my life, right there," Blair said, while turning down an offer of food. "I can't eat anything now."

Blair is called Motor Mouth by his teammates because of his constant chatter, especially after he makes an outstanding play on the field.

Blair shared the spotlight with Wally Bunker, who stopped the Dodgers on six hits while hurling his fourth complete game of the season.

Bunker said he divided his 91 pitches about equally between fast balls and sinkers.

"I tired a little bit in the eighth inning," the 21-year-old right-hander said. "But I felt right in the ninth and threw almost all sinkers."

Bunker, placed on the disabled list in August because of a sore elbow, said his arm hurt while warming up Saturday and during the first inning.

"But they put so many hot packs on me, that the only thing I felt after that was a burning sensation because of the heat. I didn't feel any more pain, though."

Baltimore pitchers have shut out the Dodgers over the last 24 innings, and relievers Eddie Fisher and Stu Miller have yet to make an appearance.

"I'm going to file for unemployment," Fisher said. "I have to throw on the sidelines before the game to get my work."

End Win Streak

Southall, Baylor Upset Arkansas 7-0

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Terry Southall's 21-yard touchdown pass to Bobby Green with 4:48 remaining gave Baylor a 7-0 Southwest Conference football victory over fifth-ranked Arkansas Saturday, snapping the nation's longest regular season winning streak.

Southall directed his fired up Bears on a 46-yard march in five plays that ended a defensive struggle.

Baylor used its defense, led by Dwight Hood, Greg Pipes and David Anderson, to turn back the Razorbacks at the Baylor 18, 6, 28, 15 and 36.

Blocked Punt Gets Nebraska Off To 31-3 Win

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Nebraska's Wayne Meylan blocked a third period Wisconsin punt and turned it into a gate opening touchdown Saturday and the unbeaten and seventh-ranked Cornhuskers rushed through for a 31-3 victory over the mistake prone Badgers.

Meylan's play came moments after Wisconsin halted a Nebraska drive when Wayne Kostka pounced on a Harry Wilson fumble at the Badgers' three.

Three Nebraska fumble recoveries and four interceptions made the Cornhuskers' job easier against the sophomore-spotted Badgers.

But the Cornhuskers had to settle for a single touchdown and a field goal before Meylan's big play despite four marches that penetrated to the Wisconsin 20-yard line.

Wisconsin struck back on a Tom Schinke field goal against the wind from 23 yards out.

The Cornhuskers, who out-gained Wisconsin 209 yards to 121 in the first half, finally got a second period touchdown after Rick Coleman recovered a Wayne Todd fumble at the Nebraska 36. A 15-yard personal foul penalty tacked on to an 11-yard Bob Churchich to end Tatum pass was the key play of the drive. Gregory swept the final nine yards with a Churchich punt.

Prin Aerial Game Rips Blueboys

BY TOM GIFFIN

ELSAH — Principia completely overpowered Illinois College 48-7, here Saturday afternoon, in a Prairie College Conference football game.

The Indians scored four touchdowns in the second period, highlighting their rampage. Tuck Spaulding scored three times, John Lyon scored twice and quarterback Buzz Brewster ran for one touchdown and threw twice to Lyon. David Neal was responsible for the final Principia score.

Principia registered their first score with 3:41 left to play in the period as Brewster skirted left end for 11 yards. The play climaxed a 12-play drive which originated on the Indiana's 33. Todd Small booted the extra point.

With 11:52 remaining in the half, Principia scored the first of four second-period touchdowns. Quarterback Brewster found Lyon all alone on a 30-yard touchdown pass. The 10-play drive covered 65 yards. Small's kick attempt was wide.

Three minutes later the Indians stuck on an eight-yard run by Spaulding. The big play of the five-play, 65-yard drive was a 3-yard pass from Brewster to Spaulding. The 172-pound halfback took the short swing-pass and left a trail of tacklers before he was pulled down from behind by Doug Hardwick. Small again kicked the extra point.

IC Drive Stalls

Small intercepted a Bucky Sullivan pass which was deflected by teammate Joe Sheppard to kill another Blueboy drive. Brewster fired a 51-yard pass to Lyon, but Tom Rowland hauled him down on the 20-yard line. A penalty, the only assessed against IC, gave Principia a first down on the 10. Spaulding ran around right end for the 10 yards and a score. Small converted with 3:49 left in the half.

Greg Arthur intercepted another Sullivan pass with 1:01 left. Three plays later Principia had another touchdown as Brewster pitched a 38-yard scoring strike to Lyon. IC's Roger Camp grabbed Lyon at the 10, but the 180-pound senior end just carried him into the end zone. Small kicked his fourth extra point with 0:15 left.

The first time the Indians got possession of the ball in the second half, they drove 55 yards in four plays. Spaulding carried the ball over the 20 with 11:34 left in the third quarter.

The Brewster-Lyon combination clicked once again during the drive for 27 yards. Small kicked the extra point.

Indians Finish Romp

The final Principia score came with 6:36 left in the final stanza. The Indians drove 75 yards in four plays. The drive was climaxed by a short swing pass from reserve quarterback Doug Linton to halfback Neal, who simply outran the IC team 61 yards to paydirt. The left-footed Small added his sixth extra point of the afternoon.

The only Illinois College score came with 4:02 left to play. Freshman Dave Barr hit Phil Snowden on a 36-yard scoring pass. Snowden added the extra point as the ball seemed to climb over the crossbar. The scoring play was set up by Rowland's 20-yard pass to end Butch Bending.

Chances To Score

The Blueboys were not without opportunities to score. At the end of the third quarter, IC lost the ball on the one-yard line. The Pigskin had been as close as two inches to the scoring stripe. The Blueboys were held on four downs after getting a first down on the second yard line.

IC forced Principia to punt early in the game. The Blueboys took the ball from their own 20 and drove to the Indiana's 30 before losing the ball on downs. IC drove to the Principia 28 in the second period but had a pass intercepted. The same fate awaited the Blueboys later in the quarter on the Indiana's 36 yard line. A fumble recovery by the Indians' Jim Gunesch averted another Blueboy drive.

Rowland played an outstanding game for the Blueboys on offense. He gained 76 yards in 10 carries. It seemed that everytime he touched the ball, the tacklers seemed to feel a little extra incentive. This incentive could be heard in tackles and even in the rise Rowland made from the green turf.

Barr received his first real experience at quarterback Saturday as he played almost the entire second half. The 6-3, 165-pounder drove forward four or five yards several times carry-

Several new team highs in both game and series departments were recorded last week, while numerous loop standings were shaken up as squads began jockeying for position.

A 258 effort by Bob Drake in Thursday Nite Men's League play came the closest to dethroning any of the existing city-wide highs for the year. George Manker holds the high game honor with a 259.

Drake's 258 sparked Rutland's to a share of the league lead with Tempo Aristocrats. Finishing games of 230 and 180 gave Drake the high series honors: a 658. The Jokers 3016 series and a 1053 game by Tuxedo Lounge also rated as highs.

Ed Autry leads the circuit with a 186 average, followed by Drake at 182.

A new league high series of 3066 lifted the Triangle Club into the City League lead Wednesday. Holland Evans gained top individual honors with 219 and 581 tallies, while American Legion took the high game on a 1069.

Wade and Dowland, a new-comer to the top slot, opened up a three game advantage in the Three-Man Scratch Classic Friday night behind week best scores of 612 and 2208.

Jim Reynolds' 828 series, coming on games of 184, 226, 204 and 214, aided Jim's Recreation's 3-1 night and gained top individual rating.

Six men, Warren Seaman, Al McCarthy, Gerald Lacey, George Manker, Fred Olson and Jack Bates share circuit-best 186 averages.

Hembrough Motor's winning string was stopped at 14 in Three-Man Handicap League play Tuesday, but their 2-2 night was enough to keep a two-game lead over the field.

A 2288 series, high for the outing, lifted the Bowling Center into second tie with Price Masonry. Gerald Lacey, high average with a 196 clip, led all scorers with a 255 games and 864 series.

Baker Chevrolet tightened up the Elks League standings by taking 2 1/2 from previous second-place holding Blackhawk.

ing tackles when it seemed that the play had been broken or stopped. He picked up 21 yards in seven carries and completed 5-11 passes for 88 yards.

Rushing stars for the Indians were Spaulding with 88 yards in 16 carries, Brewster 21 yards in three carries and Alex Smith with 38 yards in six carries. The latter two are each sophomores.

Mike Van Vleck, Chris Ranft, John Jarvis and Joe Sheppard were defensive stars for Principia. Small, Arthur and Fred Park each intercepted a pass for the Indians, and Jim Gunesch recovered an IC fumble.

Phil Snowden intercepted an Indian pass. Kenny Watson and Don Boyer each recovered a Principia fumble. Watson, Mike Hertz, John Levens, John Frazier, Rowland, Ed Price and Bud Lawrence also looked good on defense. Lawrence made three tackles where he was the last defender between the ball carrier and a score.

The loss ran Illinois College's record to 1-3 overall and 0-2 in the PCC. The game was Principia's first in the conference, and the Indians are 3-0 overall.

Late Drive Offsets FG Exhibition

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Illinois struck 74 yards in five plays for a fourth-quarter touchdown Saturday to spoil Ohio State's Big Ten football debut 10-9 despite two conference field goal records by Buckeye Gary Cairns.

The hairline victory, set by a 41-yard pass from quarterback Bob Naponic to end John Wright, not only ended a three-game Illinois losing streak but handed Ohio State's Coach Woody Hayes his first Champaign defeat in eight visits since 1952.

Cairns, 230-pound junior, kept the Buckeyes ahead with three field goals, one a modern record 55-yard boot, until Naponic sneaked across from the one-foot line on the Illini's 74-yard surge midway in the final quarter.

First Try Saturday

Cairns, who had never tried a field goal until Saturday, also booted three pointers covering 23 and 28 yards, and his total of three was a modern record for a single Big Ten game.

The previous modern field goal distance record was 50 yards by Indiana's Tom Nowatzke against Ohio State in 1964.

The all-time placement Big Ten record was a 57-yarder booted by Wisconsin's famed Pat O'Dea, also against Illinois, in 1899.

Actually, it was the toe of Illini Jim Stotz, which decided the day's hard hitting game.

Stotz booted a 29-yard field goal 24 seconds before the half ended to whittle Ohio State's margin to 6-3.

Then, after Naponic's touchdown plunge in the fourth quarter, it was Stotz' extra point kick which put the Illini ahead for the first time and wrapped up the victory at 10-9.

ILL — Naponic 1 run (Stotz kick)
Attendance 51,069.

Ruth Norton of Lynn's Standard coppled 176, 167 and 156 — 501 for high series honors.

Marlan Manker, who rolled the league's high series and game totals (555 and 213) last week, leads the circuit with a 181 average.

W.J.L.L. Radio increased its Jacksonville Merchants' League lead to 2 1/2 games Tuesday, while B & B Products swept 3 straight, via weekly highs, to move into third.

Jean Chambers set a new league high series mark with her (212, 157, 191) 860 total.

B & B connected 781, 778 and 842 for the honors, while Jean Chambers' 208 game also rated as high.

Marshall Chevrolet kept the pressure on Civic League leaders Orleans Grain Wednesday night, as they captured high game (1044) and series (3088) marks for the second straight to move into second place, one game off the pace.

Individual honors went to E. Cress on a 391 series, and Hamlet for his 233 single-game effort.

Virginia Olsen sparked the Curvettes to high game and series marks for the day, while topping both individual statistical departments in the Tuesday Afternoon Ladies last week.

Coupling 194, 188 and 134, Olson rated high with a 514 series. The Curvettes' pace-setting totals came on 680 and 1831 clockings. Sue Crouse leads the circuit with a 156 average, followed by Trudy Orris at 155.

Dean Strubbe's 237 game and 652 series highlighted play in Monday's Senior Commercial League. Newman's capped high game honors in game competition with a 1087, while tying with Busch for series tops at 3042.

Cook-A-Doodle Doo holds a game advantage over the Monday D-2 took two of three in front to remain out in front in the Kordie Women's League by one game. Gert Lambert's 213 game and 527 series topped all comers, while C-2's 2394 series and an 842 game by 53 also rated as high.

Marian Manker kept up her blistering game in individual statistics, while Meadow Gold retained its command of the team play situation in Queen Pin League action Wednesday night.

Late Field Goal Wins For UCLA

HOUSTON (AP)—Kurt Zimmerman kicked a 17-yard field goal with seven seconds left to give second ranked UCLA a 27-24 victory over fired up underdog Rice University Saturday night.

Until Zimmerman, a senior kicking specialist, booted the field goal to break a 24-24 tie it appeared the young Rice team, a three touchdown underdog, would pull the game out or hold the high scoring Bruins to the deadlock.

UCLA moved into the position for the winning field goal after recovering a Rice fumble on the Owl 23 with 1:25 left in the game.

UCLA 27 0 8 11-27
Rice 24 0 10 14-24

LOTS OF FOOTWEAR

New England accounts for about one-third of the shoe production of the United States. There are about 850 million pairs of footwear sold in retail stores annually in the nation.

STONEWALL: The blocking in the line is shown by this shot as Routt quarterback Loyd Krumlauf hands off to halfback Mike Sheehan for a dive off tackle. ISD and Routt engaged in a defensive battle Saturday, with the Rockets emerging with a 7-0 victory.

WHOOOPS: ISD's Gary Shaw puts the hammer on Routt quarterback Loyd Krumlauf and causes this fumble during Routt's 7-0 PMSC Conference victory Saturday afternoon. Rushing in to pick up the fumble are ISD's Bill Baxter (84) and Mike Wasisco.

Two Field Goals Push Tech To 6-3 Edge Over Vols

ATLANTA (AP) — Bunky Henry kicked two field goals — one the longest of his career — to push Georgia Tech past Tennessee 6-3 Saturday in a brutal defensive duel between the nationally ranked football powers.

A 41-yarder by the amateur golf star with two minutes left in the second quarter cracked a 3-3 tie and planned the first loss on the Volunteers, ranked eighth after two victories.

Henry's winning kick was set up by one of three pass interceptions by the scrappy Georgia Tech defense, which ruled the 70 per cent completion and no interception record brought into the nationally televised game by Tennessee's Dewey Warren.

The first interception, by Bill Eastman in the first quarter, stopped a Tennessee drive on the Tech 13. The interception which set up Henry's long field goal was by W. J. Blane, who killed Tennessee's final bid with three minutes to play by pirating another pass on the Tech 23.

The victory was the fourth in a row for the ninth-ranked Yellow Jackets, who yielded only in the second quarter when Tennessee's Gary Wright kicked a 27-yard field goal.

The Tennessee kick was set up by a pass interception by the Volunteers' Jimmy Glover on the Tech 44.

Tennessee 0 3 0 0-3
Georgia Tech 0 6 0 0-6

St. Norbert 30, Western Ill. 6

MACOMB, Ill. (AP)—Quarterback Steve Wilmet ran 20 yards for a touchdown and passed for two more Saturday at St. Norbert College of De Pere, Wis., beat Western Illinois 30-6 in a non-conference football tilt.

St. Norbert is now 3-0. Western Illinois has three losses and has tied once.

DISEASE'S DECLINE

The occurrence of tuberculosis of all forms has dropped in the United States from 194 per 100,000 population in 1900 to approximately six in the early 1960s. It was the chief cause of death in the United States until 1909, but had dropped to 19th place by 1960.

Clan, Wheaton Play To 1-1 Tie

By SANDY PETERSEN

Wheaton's highly-rated Crusaders failed to end the MacMurray Highlander's loss-free slate, but did manage to put a damper on Founder's Day festivities Saturday afternoon as they held off Mac's mid-second half flurry to gain a 1-1 MIOC soccer conference tie.

Outplaying their suburban Chicago foes throughout three periods and one of two overtime periods, the Highlanders racked up 30 shots on goal to 22 for the visitors. But statistics especially in soccer, often tell little.

Behind the defensive efforts of stalwarts Ted Lippert and John Whittle, the Highlanders only fell prey to four strong Wheaton attacks, while continually dumping the wind-directed ball into the offensive zone.

Mac, on the other hand, managed 11 sustained drives on Crusader goaltender Bill Bott.

Wheaton's only tally came midway through the second period on an indirect kick by left-half Andy Johnson, set up by a Clan penalty.

Down by 1-0 at the half, the Highlanders came alive during the third frame, and after missing more good chances than the MacMurray crowd's ladies and mums, tied the score with 18:00 to go.

Senior halfback Bob Brueck gained the tally on a 20 foot line-drive from the right side, with Mike Grossman gaining an assist on the play.

Outthrust through the early fourth period action, MacMurray posed their greatest not-to-avail-threat late in the period when Bott was called for five straight saves in less than a minute.

Bott recorded 11 stops in the contest, while Highlander All-American Bob Gay repelled 10. The tie leaves Mac with a 2-0-2 overall record — 1-0-1 in conference — to a 4-0-1 slate for Wheaton. The Crusaders are now 1-0-1 in MIOC play.

Scoring by periods:

Wheaton 0 1 0 0 0-1

Blair And Orr Receive Mac Alumni Award

Two members of MacMurray's class of 1961, Jimmy Orr and Blair, were named Varsity "M" Alumni of the Year Award winners Saturday.

Both are coaches: Leroy Orr of Pittsfield and Lynn Blair, Stevens Point, Wis.

Annually, the Athletic Department faculty names a graduate to this honor which is presented during Homecoming Weekend. The award is given to the man who earned a letter while at MacMurray and who has since exemplified the ideals of the Men's College: "Wisdom, Duty, and Reverence."

Orr, won two letters in baseball at MacMurray, while Blair received two letters for golf and one for basketball.

Currently Orr is coach and teacher at Pittsfield Junior High. His 1966 team compiled a 25-0 record and won the State of Illinois Heavyweight Grade School Basketball championship.

Blair, who is a native of Beardstown, is head swimming coach at Wisconsin State College, Stevens Point.

Last year his team finished 15th in the NAIA National Championships and he was selected Wisconsin NAIA Swim Coach of the Year.

Passing, Kelly Carries Brown To 41-10 Romp

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The sharp passing of Frank Ryan and Jim Ninowski plus the running of Leroy Kelly gave the Cleveland Browns an overwhelming 41-10 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers Saturday night.

Ryan tossed touchdown passes of 23 and 14 yards to Gary Collins. Ninowski hit Ralph (Catfish) Smith with a 24-yard touchdown pass, and Kelly ran for two touchdowns as the Browns improved their National Football League record to 3-2.

The Browns dominated play in every quarter except the third, when the Steelers drove for a touchdown and a field goal. George Izo climaxed a 91-yard scoring pass to Roy Jefferson, and Mike Clark kicked a 16-yard field goal.

Total statistics gave the Steelers only 22 yards rushing to 241 for the 'cons.

Pittsburgh 0 0 10 0-10

PMSC Game Settled By Long Pass

By BUFORD GREEN

A 47-yard scoring toss from Loyd Krumlauf to Dave Geers on the final play of the first half and an airtight defense carried Routt to a 7-0 PMSC conference victory over the ISD Tigers Saturday afternoon on the ISD field.

Defense was the story for both sides in the contest, with both clubs putting up an impressive show. Neither team gained over 100 net yards on the ground and both had only seven first downs.

ISD reached Routt territory only four times in the contest, getting inside the 30 only once and that came on a fumbled punt. Routt made 18D ground only five times, and actually never threatened except for the scoring pass to Geers.

Both sides had marches moving several times in the contest only to have them stymied by penalties or fumbles. Both clubs lost the ball twice on bobbles.

The only score of the game came on what was the final play from scrimmage in the first half. Routt had a third and 15 situation when Krumlauf was given plenty of time to throw, and hit Geers, who didn't have a man with 12 yards of him down the middle, at about the 25 and the speedy senior halfback romped in untouched.

Paul Lambert ran the point after.

Tigers Move Early

The first time the host Tigers got their hands on the ball they moved from their own 28 to the Routt 30, picking up three quick first downs. Routt's Steve McGuire gobbled up an ISD fumble at the 35 to halt the march.

Geers fumbled the snap from center to give ISD the ball again at the Routt 35 on the final play of the first period but a five yard penalty on the Tigers ended the threat as the fourth down play fell just inches short.

ISD got another scoring shot on the last play of the third stanza when a 15-yard walkoff on the Rockets gave the Tigers a first down on the Routt 40. Two plays later another fumble ended the shot.

Rockets On March

Routt put together their longest march of the day on the next series, moving from their own 38 to the ISD 82 before bogging down. ISD got the ball twice more with time running out, but failed to move, making only one first down.

The winners netted 83 yards, being thrown for 34 yards in losses. Halfback Mike Sheehan was the leading rusher with 42 yards in ten attempts, while Lambert had 37 in ten and Geers added 33 in nine carries.

ISD managed only 60 net rushing yards, with fullback Mike Wasisco getting 48 yards in 11 tries.

The victory moves Routt to a 2-2 overall mark, but a perfect 2-0 PMSC reading, ISD fell to an identical overall record, and stands 1-1 in the conference.

MacMURRAY QUEEN — Miss Michele Bernard, (center) a junior from St. Louis, was crowned fall sports queen during MacMurray's Founders' Day and homecoming ceremonies Saturday.

Seventeen girls were nominated for the court by the members of the lettermen's club. Students on the campus selected the court and queen by secret ballot.

Miss Bernard is an elementary education major and is very active on the campus. She is currently co-manager of the hockey team, president of the modern dance club, the Orchestras; president of Belle Lettres, a service and literary group; served as SOS counselor, YWCA pa., legislative board, recreation association council and '65 homecoming court.

Name Co-Chairmen For United Fund Special Division

J. Paul Gnagey and Ben O. Roodhouse have been appointed co-chairmen of the special division of the 1966-67 United Fund Campaign, according to co-chairmen Robert Spink and Ralph Troyer. The division, one of ten in the campaign, will include traveling salesmen, retired persons, widows, and others who would not be included in the other employment divisions.

Solicitation for the 1966-67 United Fund Campaign will be held only during the month of November, following a kick-off dinner (dutch treat) for campaign workers.

Gnagey is the retired superintendent of schools, having served 37 years as superintendent. He is on the board of directors and vice-president of the United Fund.

He is a member of Rotary, public education committee of Morgan County Unit of American Cancer Society, a director of Methodist Men of Jacksonville District, and treasurer of the Illinois Prairie Girl Scout council.

He presently is a member of the Morgan county committee conducting a census of out-of-school youth in the county, in conjunction with the Illinois superintendent of public instruction. He and his wife Beulah Whitehead Gnagey, live at 402 Lake Street in Jacksonville.

Roodhouse, who will serve his third year as co-chairman of the special division, just retired last March after 55 years with the Eli Bridge Co. He is vice-president of Rotary, elder and Sunday school superintendent at Central Christian church, treasurer of the board of managers of Jacksonville City cemeteries, a past-president of the Jacksonville YMCA, scoutmaster of a Boy Scout troop, and past-president of American War Dads. He is a United Fund board member.

He was graduated from Roodhouse High School and attended Brown's Business college in Jacksonville. He and his wife, Mabel J. Roodhouse, live at 647 South Diamond St. They have married daughters in Decatur and Potomac, Ill. and a son in San Diego, Calif.

Mrs. Raymond Joseph Baker

Linda Lou Farrell, R. J. Baker Wed

The former Linda Lou Farrell wore for her October second wedding to Raymond Joseph Baker a lovely gown of crystal and pearl embellished Chantilly lace with white satin panels. The gown was fashioned en-train and the bride's veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a triple crown of pearls and French cut crystal. She carried a single long stemmed white rose.

The ceremony was at two o'clock in the afternoon at Grace Methodist church with the pastor, Dr. Frank Nestler, officiating. Mrs. G. O. Webster accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Robert Adams, at the organ.

The bride is the daughter of Frank Farrell and Mrs. Lorraine Farrell and the groom is the son of Joseph Raymond Baker, all of this city.

Mrs. Steve Rhoades of Bloomington, Illinois and Wendell Stephenson, Ashland rural route, attended the couple. Mrs. Rhoades wore floor length emerald green satin with crepe overlay. Her headdress matched her costume and she carried a single long stemmed yellow rose.

The bride's brother, Tom Farrell and Mr. Rhoades, seated guests. Mr. Farrell gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Farrell wore for her daughter's wedding a blue suit with beige trim. Her accessories were in blue and her flowers white carnations.

A reception was held in the church parlors with Mrs. Tom Farrell and Mrs. Wendell Stephenson assisting.

The couple spent a short honeymoon as the groom was stationed with the U.S. Marine Corps in Hawaii. He just recently completed a ten month tour of duty in Viet Nam.

Mrs. Baker graduated from Jacksonville High school in 1965 and Mr. Baker in 1964. The bride later attended Hardin Business College. The couple's residence will be at 327 South Diamond street.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Watson Tuley, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Tuley, Mrs. Loid Redman, Mrs. J. C. Kendrick, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kendrick, all of Monroe City, Missouri and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Robinson of Monticello, Illinois.

Also the bride's sister, Mrs. Robert Rawlings, Mr. Rawlings and family of St. Louis, Mo. and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walsh of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Fall Fashions At Meeting Of Newcomers Club

Members of the Welcome Wagon Newcomers club enjoyed a review of fall fashions at its Oct. 4th dinner meeting held at the Blackhawk.

The showing was through courtesy of Myers Brothers with Miss Sandy Spellman narrating. Models were Ginny Bellamy, Jacqueline Schulz, Olquitta Caster, Dorothy Brooks, Linda Ballard, Bernice Fite, JoAnn Elder, Patsy Heacox and Barbara Murphy.

The hostesses Karen Newcum, Thelma Burkman and Dorothy Cudney used Halloween decorations. Table prizes of skulls and pumpkins went to Norma Coehnour, Judy Bradley, Sandy DeFrates, Jane Cheseman, Ernie Krethick and Joan Traw. The witch and bean pot, from the speaker's table was won by Peggy Wright.

The raffle prize, a tote-bag and umbrella, was won by Mary Jane Cannell. In a special drawing a ten dollar gift certificate from Myers Brothers went to Mildred Alred.

Newcomer big sisters introduced the following first time guests, Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. Meryl Cumby, Mrs. Jerry Gerkowski, Mrs. Al Krethick, Mrs. Marvin Keuhns, Mrs. Robert Stroder, Mrs. James Trosh, Mrs. Robert Vernon, Mrs. Shelton Kipshew. Special guests were Norma Coehnour, sister of Jean Doelring; Ann Bogacz, mother-in-law of Sandy Bogacz and Karen Schuetler, friend of Linda Ballard.

Mrs. Larry Schmaljohn conducted the meeting. A picture of members who joined the club in September and October will be taken at the November meeting. This group will be called.

The dinner dance planned for Oct. 22nd will be at the Elks club. Members and friends who have not made a reservation may call Betty Hardwig before Oct. 15th.

A nominating committee, Bea Blue, Dorothy Cudney, Ginny Bellamy and Betty Jackson, will offer a slate of new officers for approval at the November meeting.

Members were urged to register with the county clerk to vote. The Passavant hospital bazaar was announced and members were invited to join the Aid Society. Several other announcements were made.

Tuesday Club Entertained At Steinheimer Home

Tuesday club members were entertained the afternoon of Oct. 4th at the home of Mrs. Ray Steinheimer. A dessert course was served by the hostess before the program.

Mrs. Samuel Darley, president, opened the meeting and conducted the business session. Reports were given by Mrs. Harold Patterson and Mrs. Steinheimer.

Program chairman Mrs. Ray Templin introduced Mrs. C. R. Gibson who presented the program, The Scandinavian Countries. She spoke of many cities and countries visited during her recent trip which were most interesting.

Mrs. Templin announced the annual Guest Day Luncheon to be held Oct. 18th at the Jacksonville Country Club.

A social hour followed the program. Twenty-six members and two associate members were present.

Pastor And Wife To Tell Of Trip At CWJ Program

The Rev. and Mrs. William Sturges will present the program at the meeting Wednesday evening, Oct. 12th, at 7:30 p.m. for the Christian Women's Fellowship of the church.

The couple will tell of their recent trip to Europe and the Holy Land and show pictures. Members may bring a guest to this meeting.

Members of the Massey-Griffin Group will serve refreshments following the program.

The executive board will meet at 6:30 p.m. in the Chi Rho room at the church.

General cards were enjoyed after the program.

Newcomer members were entertained Sept. 29th at a coffee at the home of Joan Traw. She was assisted by Willie Shippee, Bev Blue and Karen Thompson and Betty Hardwig. Open faced sandwiches, coffee and tea were served by the hostesses to: Irma Carbone, Barbara Chaitin, Sue Dohage, Bernice Fite, Marilyn Johnston, Joan Rice, Darlene Ridings and Nancy Stainton.

The board will meet Oct. 17th at the home of Mrs. Richard Thompson, 628 South Prairie street.

5-States, Canada Sorority Meet In City Next Weekend

The local alumnae chapter of Alpha Iota, International Honorary Business sorority, will host the fall conclave for the organization's Mid-West States Association on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 15 and 16.

Members will be in the city from chapters in Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Wisconsin and Kentucky and from the country of Canada.

Alpha Iota has chapters throughout the United States, Hawaii and Canada. The theme for the upcoming conclave's decor is America the Beautiful with music and speakers stressing 'what makes America so great.'

Registration will be held at 9 a.m. and meetings and workshops will be held at the Blackhawk motel, headquarters for the conclave.

An officers luncheon will be served Saturday at Howard Johnson's and a business session held in the afternoon at the Student Center on MacMurray College campus. Local Girl Scouts will conduct a flag ceremony using both the United States and Canada's flags.

Special guests this coming weekend will be Mrs. Phyllis Schmitt, Grand Treasurer, from De Moines, Iowa; Mrs. Adele

All Retired Teachers Asked To Attend Meet

West Central Retired Teachers will hold their Fall Conference Saturday, Oct. 15th, at 9 a.m. at the Springfield Elks club, 509 South Sixth street.

There will be a registration and social hour 9 to 10 a.m. with Miss Margaret Gallagher in charge. This will be followed with business from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., Mrs. Lucille Cline presiding.

Included in the program will be selections by the Singing Seven from Springfield High School, under direction of Ralph Sprecklemyer and the showing of slides by Miss Mable Merriam on her trip to the East.

There will be a presentation of the current legislation situation in Illinois with reference to retired teachers given by Mrs. Bess Hale of Peoria, chairman of the IRTA legislative committee and a presentation with a discussion of Medicare apropos of NRTA insurance plans by Samuel Boardman, NRTA/AARP insurance consultant.

All retired teachers, both members and non-members of the six county area, Cass, Macoupin, Menard, Morgan, Sangamon and Scott, are cordially invited.

Birthday Surprise For Mrs. Melton, Mrs. Hembrough

A surprise birthday dinner was served Sunday evening, Oct. 2nd, at the home of Miss Helen Woolfolk in this city honoring anniversaries of Mrs. Lena Melton and Mrs. Lucille Hembrough.

A delicious steak dinner was served, the traditional birthday song sung and the honorees opened their gifts. Attending were Mrs. Melton, Mrs. Hembrough, Mrs. Nettie Knight, Mrs. Ruth Ransom, Mrs. Tamar Burch and Miss Woolfolk, all of Jacksonville.

Roger Darrs Of Greene Mark 58th Anniversary

CARROLLTON — Mr. and Mrs. Roger Darr quietly observed their 58th wedding anniversary October 4 at their home in Bluffdale township. Darr has been assessor of Bluffdale township for the past 35 years.

Plans were made for the serving of a Masonic Banquet when Temple Chapter No. 325 of the Order of the Eastern Star met Oct. 4 in the Masonic Temple.

The banquet which will honor past Masters of Carrollton Lodge No. 50 A.F. & A.M. will be served at 7 p.m. Saturday evening October 15. Editorial Comment

The 'Silent Disaster'

It is a fair statement, borne out by an increasing weight of evidence, that every major metropolitan area in the United States has problems of air pollution and will have more severe problems in the future. This view is convincingly set forth in Lewis Herber's book, "Crisis in Our Cities."

Herber warns that this industrial-mobile nation's skies are rapidly becoming virtual sewers of deadly gases which impair vision, recreation and health. And though it is widely accepted that such extreme smog conditions as exist in Los Angeles have bad effects, few people are aware of what Herber describes as the "silent disaster."

His reference is to the fact that many air pollutants are dangerous poisons even in relatively small quantities. Carbon monoxide, ozone, aldehydes, hydrocarbons, sulphur compounds, acids, ammonia and lead are often found even in areas generally thought to be for the most part free of such substances.

The startling fact about these pollutants is that, even in small quantities, they can have extremely damaging effects on human and plant life over long periods of time. There is more and more evidence showing a connection between these pollutants and lowered life spans, premature heart and respiratory disease, and even such problems as the common cold and pneumonia. In addition, substantial damage can be done to property—especially to rubber products and vegetables.

Pollutants seem to arise from as many sources as there are materials burned. The problem of air pollution will be solved only when Americans become aware of the dangers they run simply by breathing, and translate their concern into corrective action. Herber's book should help greatly to generate such awareness.

Irradiated Foods

A potential revolution in the processing and marketing of perishable foods has proceeded quietly over the past several years. We seem to be very close, now, to the time when its impact will begin to be felt in the nation's supermarkets.

The process involved is irradiation to kill organisms in foods and thus preserve them for long periods without impairment of flavor and other desirable qualities. That is the ideal. In reality, much more experimentation will be required before the ideal is fully realized.

It is significant, however, that the Atomic Energy Commission is launching an intensified effort to bring about commercial irradiation of a variety of foods. The AEC will make available to industry a mobile irradiation unit. It is hoped that processors of numerous foods, ranging from meats to fruits, will make experimental use of the unit and submit their conclusions to the results.

There are two basic possibilities.

The AEC has focused mainly on ways of using irradiation to extend the "shelf life" of perishable foods. The Army has been more intent on treatment of meats so that they can be kept for months or even years without refrigeration. Both techniques offer commercial promise.

The promise is still some ways from being realized. The Food and Drug Administration is being properly cautious about possibly harmful radioactivity. The industry has been reluctant to enter the field, since the FDA has thus far approved commercial use of irradiation only on potatoes, wheat products and canned bacon.

The AEC's new push for commercial experimentation gives promise, however, of swift development now after years of rather slow progress. Soon a variety of foods may bear some such nuclear age label as "Irradiated for Freshness."

Dear Ann:

Stuttering Embarrasses Teen

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I am a high school senior (boy) with an unusual problem. I began to stutter about a year ago and it is getting worse all the time.

I am afraid to speak in front of the class because it is awfully embarrassing to get stuck halfway through a word and not be able to go on. I realize, too, that unless I overcome this terrible habit I will have a tough time getting a job.

My kid brother used to stutter when he was about four or five years old but he outgrew it. It seems strange that I never stuttered when I was younger and picked up the habit in my teens. Please tell me what to do about it. —DOUBLE TALK

Dear Talk: Stuttering — at any age — is caused by an emotional problem. I suggest you talk to your counselor at once. If your school has no counseling program, talk to your favorite teacher. You are frustrated and anxious about something, and you must determine what it is before you can deal with it. Get going and good luck to you.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a professional man who has read your column for years. I, too, never thought I'd ever ask for help, but I need it.

My wife and I are people of means. We have a large home and several children. For years I have been begging my wife to get some help in the house. Her answer is always the same: "I hate to have anyone under my feet. I'd rather do my own work, then I know it's right. Nobody can clean and wash and iron the way I can."

Why must this woman be a sloping servant? She has no time or energy for fun or any of the outside activities that I'd enjoy with her. It's work, work, work from morning till night.

My in-laws are on my side. They say it's nonsense for her to kill herself when we can well afford help. What's the solution? —WITS END

Dear Wits: Your wife is a compulsive worker and you are not going to change her. Some women use all their energy on the floors and walls and rugs so there won't be any left for their husbands.

Discuss the problem with a professional. There's more involved here than a woman who likes to clean house.

Dear Ann Landers: You must be as ugly as a mud fence or you would not have answered "Mirror Mirror On The Wall" as you did. Well, I can sympathize with her because I am beautiful, too. But my looks have brought me nothing but grief — just like "Mirror."

I grew up in a family of envious sisters. My mother was envious of me, too. The male teachers favored me and the women teachers hated me. When I married, I inherited an envious mother-in-law and two envious sisters-in-law. And now my daughter is envious.

I have owned and operated a beauty shop for 18 years and I know more about women than you will know if you live to be 110. Whether you believe it or not, life is very difficult for the beautiful. —BEEN THERE AND BACK

Dear Back: Whether YOU believe it or not, your problems have nothing to do with your looks. The experts tell you that good looks attract people. They are a plus. It's how you treat people — "Gee, you attract them that counts."

George Washington laid the cornerstone for the national Capitol.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

This is the first time for several years that a speech class and a speech club have been available to JHS students. It is hoped that many will take advantage of this fun and worthwhile opportunity.

JHS Forms New Club

By ANDREA HEISS

Interested in the dramatic arts? Anxious to participate in speech contests, plays, recitations, and skits? These are some of the essential requirements for those wishing to become a member of the newly organized speech and drama club at JHS.

Sigma Delta Chi, chosen from the Greek letters for Speech and Drama Club, has already drafted a constitution, elected officers for this fall, discussed plans for the coming year, and recruited approximately sixty members.

Under the direction of Mrs. English, the speech teacher, the club hopes to prepare for many stimulating activities. Among these will be an open meeting, a one-act play, a high school spot on one of the local radio stations, and the preparation for area and state speech contests this spring. The club plans to have one activity every year which will be available to local groups for their meetings.

All interested high school students are eligible. This fall forty-one students are enrolled in the two speech classes offered to junior and seniors.

Bill Freeman, a senior, was elected president. His function is to preside during the parliamentary procedures of Sigma Delta Chi. Andrea Heiss was elected to serve as vice-president. Her responsibility is to organize an over-all plan for the literary portion of the club to revitalize around. Delores Sooy is the recording secretary and Kris Meadows will handle correspondence and publicity. The treasurer, Bob Shay, will manage the club funds. Critics Christine Armstrong and Cordah Robinson were selected to evaluate the literary presentations presented during the meetings.

This is the first time for several years that a speech class and a speech club have been available to JHS students. It is hoped that many will take advantage of this fun and worthwhile opportunity.

THE QUESTION is how to achieve smog control, and this may be part of the answer. It's a preform segment of synthetic rubber hose made by Amerac Corp. for use with fum control devices coming in to increasing use by industrial and automotive concerns.

Belt-Tightening Necessary As Viet War Escalates

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
HONOLULU (NEA) — From here it is clear that the war is going to escalate at a steady pace in men and dollars.

This escalation will put increasing pressures on the economy.

It can no longer be business as usual.

The United States has more than a million men in this war — in the field, including troops in Viet Nam, Thailand, Okinawa, Hawaii, the B-52 bases on Guam, naval men aloft off the Southeast Asia coast and in stimulating activities. Among these will be an open meeting, a one-act play, a high school spot on one of the local radio stations, and the preparation for area and state speech contests this spring. The club plans to have one activity every year which will be available to local groups for their meetings.

We are pouring more than a half billion dollars a year of economic aid into the war areas.

There is no escaping the pressure the growing size of the war will put on the U.S. economy in the next 12 months.

The war is chewing up material at a great rate. Losses in some key types of arms and equipment — including some major plane types — are growing faster than replacement can be produced. This will call for a growing number of major emergency orders.

Shortages in critical materials are putting pressures on prices of raw materials, components and a range of finished products.

At home, inflation next year will be worse. Major labor unions are expected in 1967 to boost their wage increase demands by 20 to 25 per cent above the increases demanded this year just to meet rising living costs.

If the economy is not to get out of hand:

—Some tough measures have got to be taken to make certain that essential supplies of skilled manpower and critical materials are channeled to critical war tasks in 1967.

—Taxes will have to be raised.

There are parallel and growing shortages of men with critical skills in the armed forces and industry.

These shortages and the rising cost of living are pushing labor costs up. These increasing labor costs, in turn, are increasing production costs and forcing prices still higher.

The administration can do great harm to the economy by continuing to play Viet Nam as a life-as-usual, don't-rock-the-home-front war.

The war is suffering because certain badly-needed types of arms and equipment aren't being developed and produced quickly enough. The bog down is not in the delivery system but in development and production bottlenecks.

The fighting men are handicapped because selected reservists and reserve units with critical abilities and critical training and skills aren't being called up.

At home, inflation next year will be worse. Major labor unions are expected in 1967 to boost their wage increase demands by 20 to 25 per cent above the increases demanded this year just to meet rising living costs.

If the economy is not to get out of hand:

Illinois Now In 3rd Phase Of Hog Cholera Eradication Program

Seven confirmed hog cholera outbreaks in Illinois, two of them in Morgan county, were reported during August — the second month Illinois has been in the "stamping out" phase of the federal-state campaign to eradicate the disease.

During the month, outbreak of hog cholera ebbed to an all-time low in the nation.

That was the report of Dr. Paul B. Doby, superintendent of the Illinois Division of Livestock and Poultry Industry, when he addressed the Morgan County Pork Producers Tuesday evening in the auditorium of the new Extension Center on East Morton Road.

He said Illinois is now in Phase III of the program designed to eradicate hog cholera in the United States by 1972.

Under the indemnities can be paid for hogs that must be destroyed because of the disease. Apparently healthy hogs of marketable weight may be salvaged through immediate slaughter and the remaining infected hogs and exposed hogs not suitable for slaughter are destroyed and the owner paid indemnity for them.

Must Be Alert
"The watchword for Illinois hog producers must be SUSPECT CHOLERA FIRST," Doby advised. "Hog cholera can appear in many forms. So if a farmer has sick pigs he should call his veterinarian at once. Reliable diagnostic aids are available to determine if the illness is hog cholera."

"We can't afford to let a single outbreak slip by," he emphasized.

Here's how Phase II of the eradication program works:

As soon as a suspect case of hog cholera is reported, the herd is quarantined by a state or federal veterinarian, who makes a count of all living animals, with notations as to size and class. If hog cholera is confirmed, final appraisal is made on this basis.

Indemnity Paid
Animals salvaged through slaughter are inspected by a veterinarian just prior to shipment and are shipped under special rules, directly to a slaughtering plant. Hogs destroyed because of hog cholera are appraised at their actual value for meat, feeding or breeding value, and indemnity payments are based on this appraisal.

Indemnities are paid on a matching basis from state and federal funds. Limitations include (1) grade hogs are not eligible for appraisal based on breeding value, (2) appraisal of the breeding value of grade females will not be greater than three times their value for meat or feeding and (3) total indemnity shall not exceed $80 per head for grade animals or $100 per head for registered purebred swine.

LAW on the farm

The Illinois supreme court recently held that corn stored on the farm under a resale agreement for federal price support is assessable to the farmer for the property tax.

The principal question that the court decided was who owned the corn after it was resold. The farmer in the case argued that the United States government owned the corn. They contended that when corn is sealed it is in effect sold to the federal government and that all they retain is an option to repurchase. They stated that they are allowed by law to exercise the option to buy back the corn, but they can also satisfy the note they signed by letting the government have the corn that is already paid for.

The farmers further argued that they have no personal liability on the note they signed. They have no power to sell the corn, can pay income tax on the money received, and are paid a storage allowance for keeping the government's corn. They pointed out that it wouldn't make sense for the government to pay storage to farmers if the farmers owned this corn.

The supreme court turned down these arguments and held that the corn was still the property of the farmer and was being used only as security for a loan. The court referred to the fact that the farmer signed a producer note and a loan agreement with resealing merely extending that note and agreement. The farmer is also responsible for negligent storage and deficiencies in grade.

The court suggested that the privilege of paying income tax on the loan money had no bearing on this legal transaction and was due to the "vagaries of federal income tax law and the benevolent motivation that underlies the price support program." A quote by the court from a federal case referred to farmers as having a "free ride of the market" by this program.

The position of other states is divided on this question. Some hold the farmers subject to the property tax on sealed corn — some that the agreement is a sale with an option to buy back and the tax does not apply. In Illinois the issue is now at rest. The corn is assessable.

Business Firms, Others Support Extension Fund

Morgan County businesses and others have given good support to the Cooperative Extension Service by contributing to a fund to furnish and equip the Extension Center.

Council Chairman, Dale Lepper of the Agricultural Council, and Mrs. Robert Worrell of the Home Economics Council, report that contributions have been received to date from 61 Extension supporters.

Funds will be used to buy chairs and tables for the Extension Center meeting rooms, files and chairs for the offices of the farm adviser and home adviser, office equipment and other things needed to carry out the Cooperative Extension program in Morgan county.

The Cooperative Extension offices were moved last month to the new location on East Morton Road.

Those contributing to the equipment fund as of Friday, Oct. 7 were:

Those Pesky Sod Webworms!

Since central and northern Illinois homeowners and turfmen have just weathered another sod webworm attack, it's just as well they didn't know that entomologists at the Illinois Natural History Survey on the University of Illinois campus were raising more sod webworms.

But don't be alarmed, agricultural entomologist A. C. Banerjee advises. He raised webworms strictly for research purposes to learn more about this lawn and turf pest. The buff-colored female moth, while zigzagging across lush lawns, can lay as many as 800 eggs, Banerjee points out.

U. of I. entomologists have suggested that a well watered and fertilized lawn can carry several sod webworm larvae without apparent damage. Banerjee's research—just completed—will give entomologists some improved guidelines for recommendations.

In their research Banerjee and his colleagues set up various treatments and "seeded" the plots with known infestations of webworm larvae. Hence the need for hatching and rearing larvae in the laboratory.

Different Situations
For check plots the entomologists left some areas unfertilized and poorly watered (only 3 inch). Some plots received only water at the rate of two inches a week. One treatment simulated "typical" homeowner treatment, getting two inches of water and light applications of fertilizer. In another treatment representing the ultimate in management the entomologists watered and fertilized the plots well.

To measure damage by larvae, the entomologists kept a record of the yield in grass clippings on the plots during the webworm season. Fully grown webworms do 80 percent of their damage between late June and early to mid-September before they pupate, says Banerjee.

They overwinter in the soil as partly grown larvae. The mature larva, about one inch long is gray to dusky green with a dark brown head and brown spots over its body.

From plots receiving only water, the entomologists collected 10 grams of dry matter in clippings per square foot. Plots receiving water and light amounts of fertilizer — "typical" homeowner treatment — yielded 20 grams. Well watered and fertilized plots yielded 40 grams of dry matter per square foot.

Damage Varies
Previous research indicates that a full-grown larva can consume about one-half to one gram of grass, says Banerjee. Usually Larvae have damaged 30 to 50 percent of the grass before the average homeowner notices the destruction. In the recent test, poorly watered plots suffered 20 percent damage with only two to four larvae per square foot. In well watered and fertilized plots, the entomologists observed some damage with eight larvae per square foot.

Indications of Presence
Brown patches of grass may indicate webworms or disease. Freshly clipped grass — cut by the feeding larvae — and tunnels in the soil surface positively identify webworms as the culprits, says Banerjee. Numerous buff-colored moths, flying low in a zigzag pattern over the lawn at dusk — and moths collecting around porch lights — usually mean that an invasion of webworms will follow. Larvae appear about 10 days after the moths lay their eggs. An excessive number of birds may also indicate the presence of larvae.

If webworms overwinter in lawns, they may cause damage early in the season. Combined early and late infestations can severely damage turf areas, says Banerjee. He suggests that homeowners may need to use chemical control when good cultural management and early detection fail to control webworms. Diazinon or carbaryl, applied in late July or early August, controls the pest safely and effectively. Two applications may be necessary because adult moths lay eggs throughout the season.

Since it's too late to apply chemicals now, Banerjee advises keeping the grass well watered and cutting tall grass. Tall, lush growth attracts moths, he adds.

Fertilize In Fall? Where Do You Live?

A consensus by five agronomists across the country indicates that fall fertilization is recommended for the northern part of the United States, but has less value in the warmer climates of the southeast and California.

Roy Flannery, Rutgers University, reports that when fall fertilization is not an established practice with certain crops, rather than complete fertilization, it is best to make a soil test and select a fertilizer ratio that will beef up the nutrients that are in short supply.

In the Midwest, spring-wet soils hinder both the application of fertilizer and early planting, so fall fertilization is recommended, says Dr. S. R. Aldrich, University of Illinois. Between fall application and spring planting, the water available to leach nitrate is seldom enough to move it from the root zone.

In general, fall application of nitrogen is acceptable in the northern and western Midwest because of low temperatures and low rainfall, respectively.

In the Northwest, Dr. M. Dawson reports that because of the large amounts of perennial forage crops and winter annuals grown, fall fertilization is recommended. Mild, wet winters provide movement of nitrogen to root zones. Besides providing late fall growth, nutrients are moved by winter rains into the root zone ready for spring growth.

However, in the Southeast, says Dr. C. E. Scarsbrook, Auburn University, farmers have traditionally split applications of fertilizer. This practice cuts leaching losses that result from the area's high rainfall and generally sandy soils. In general, tests have shown that fall application for spring-seeded crops is inefficient in the Southeast and not recommended.

And in California, reports Dr. W. E. Martin of the University of California, much nitrogen fertilizer and up to an 80% loss of sulphate may occur on more permeable California soils, during the heavy winter rains.

However, in the dryer climatic zone fall nitrogen applications to irrigated grain with relatively low winter rainfall are quite profitable, he said.

4-H Club Activities

CHANDLERVILLE — The Bloom and Blossom 4-H club was organized for the new year during a meeting held recently at the Chandlerville community building.

Elected as officers were: Cindy Severns, president; Debbie Lane, vice-president; Julia Kirchner, secretary; Verna Henry, treasurer; Yvonne Edge, reporter; Janice Snyder, recreation leader; Cindy Severns, Debbie Lane and Verna Henry, federation delegates.

Individual projects were selected for the year and members voted to sell birthday calendars as a money-making project.

Mrs. Jerry Wessel, leader, is accepting applications for membership in the club.

MURRAYVILLE — The 4-H Queens and Kings 4-H club held an organizational meeting Monday evening at the grade school building.

The group has been divided into junior and senior clubs because of a large enrollment. Elected as officers of the junior club were: Jeff Heaton, president; Jon Freeman, vice-president; Debbie Riggs, secretary; Larry McGrath, treasurer; and Jim Bonneau, reporter.

Bob Fluke was chosen as president of the senior club with Lloyd DeOrnellas, vice-president; Gale Heaton, secretary; Steve Cantrell, treasurer and Joyce White, reporter.

Oran Fitzsimmons and David LaKamp are senior club leaders.

A discussion of fund-raising projects was held and refreshments were served by Gerald Heaton, Gale Heaton and Darryl Lewis.

Both clubs will meet on the first Monday of the month at the grade school.

GREENE FARMER GETS HELPING HAND

WHITE HALL — Neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Allen, who live southwest of White Hall met Thursday to harvest the Allens' crop of beans. Mr. Allen is recuperating after hospitalization.

Participating were Lloyd Allen, Walter Freand, Coy Hettick, Robert Lawson, Durward Ward, Mitchell James, Virgil Price, Byron Price, Gene Coffman, Gloyd Hoelman, Frank Zoller, Bob Hubbard, Clyde Dunphy, Homer Bostic, and Buddy Schutz.

Gas for the tractors was furnished by Clarence Dawdy Jr. of the Greene County Service Company. Wives of the workers served a mid-afternoon lunch of doughnuts, cookies and coffee. Assisting were Mrs. Durward Ward, Mrs. Beal Cotter, Mrs. Doris Clanton, Mrs. Olivia Heskett.

The visitors agreed with him.

Thursday he combined the early and medium maturing varieties. The early ones were rather disappointing, although the exact yield has not yet been figured. Amsoy made about 38 bushels per acre, and Wayne and Shelby hit about 40. The latter beans — Clark, Clark 63, Bellatti and Drury — promise to do better, but they won't be ready for the combine for some time, maybe in 10 days if the weatherman furnishes sunshine and drying breezes.

SET HOMECOMING AT CARROLLTON HIGH

CARROLLTON — The annual Homecoming festivities of the Carrollton Community Unit High School will open Thursday evening, October 27 with the traditional bonfire-py rally. BRIMFUL About Half Of Morgan Soybeans In The Bin

By Jim Brim

Every year we have a few more "miracle" fertilizer or soil conditioner deals proposed. All of them brought to you for one reason—to make money for the promoter!

Here are some ways to spot fertilizer "quacks." He claims mysterious benefits from "unlocking" nutrients in your soil. Material he sells is from some unusual but natural deposits.

He makes no guarantee for nitrogen, phosphorus or potassium, but claims his material contains the "micro-nutrients" needed for plant growth.

He has no research results from an unbiased source to back his claims. He may have testimonials from farmers in other states but you have no way of knowing if they are authentic or if you would get the same results.

He is likely to run down the state university by saying, "They won't test our product." If you ask what the farm adviser thinks of it he may reply, "Don't ask him. He wouldn't know the value of our product."

Be also watchful of the man who makes big claims for a "special" high priced variety of seed.

Remember — you can't get something for nothing.

Now you should...
...enjoy fall flowers.
...check over your plans.
...buy anti-freeze.
...replace plugs and points.
...dress appropriately.
...keep alert.
...count the days till frost.

If you have down look for the reasons now.

A lack of potassium causes lodging.

Thick planting of an unadapted hybrid corn may cause lodging.

Disease—stalk rot or root rot. To combat have a balanced level of fertility with plenty of K.

Full season hybrids are more resistant. Insect—corn rootworms are sometimes the cause. Use a pre-emergence insecticide. Broadmindedness is high-mindedness that has been flattened by experience.

It's going to be a stretched-out soybean harvest. Some early planted fields of early maturing beans were combined as long as three weeks ago and the later planted fields of later maturing beans won't be ready for another 10 days or so.

It appears that about half of the crop has been harvested. The quality is generally very good. Yields are considerably better than most people imagined during the hot and dry weather of last July and August. Some farmers were amazed to find that their soybeans made just about as much as they did last year.

J. W. Johnson of the Johnson Grain Co. Litterberry, said Friday that the crop around there was running from 30 to 50 bushels per acre, and he estimated that the average would be 40 bushels.

In the south part of the county the yield will be between 30 to 35 bushels, says Richard Whalen of the Whalen Grain Co.

"I believe it will be just about the same as last year," he said. "Quality is good, but as usual many of the boys got out into the fields four or five days too early and some of the harvest has been on the tough side. We began getting beans in at their best Thursday afternoon and of course today is just right for combining."

The price of soybeans has been edging off ever since the last government report came out indicating near-normal yields. Some real early harvested beans brought as much as $3.18 per bushel in local markets and Friday most elevators were paying $2.82.

Normally the later maturing varieties produce better than the early varieties, but this year it appears most likely that the later beans will have a more than normal advantage over their earlier cousins.

FU Asks Feed Grain Price Assurances

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Farmers Union says farmers are likely to view "with a critical eye" expected government plans to step up feed grain production next year.

The farm organization says in its latest newsletter to members that feed grain farmers will want government assurances of an assured return from any increase in output.

Under the feed grain program in effect in recent years, the government has offered payments on land held out on feed grain production as well as price support payments on production.

The 1967 program is expected to call for diversion of much less land from production than the 35 million acres this year. This could mean a reduction in payments from the government.

The agriculture department is expected to announce details of the grain program before the end of this month.

Communications On The Moon

By WALTER B. HENDRICKSON JR.

Communicating will be simple for the first astronauts who land on the moon. When one astronaut steps out on the moon his comments will be relayed to earth through the Lunar Excursion Module and the orbiting Apollo spacecraft.

Later permanent bases on the moon will be able to communicate directly with earth. Communicating with other bases and expeditions beyond the horizon will be more difficult.

There is no ionosphere on the moon to reflect radio waves as is done on earth. The problem is further complicated by the moon's small size (about one quarter that of earth). This means the horizon is less than a mile away.

Must Use Radio
Explorers on the near side of the moon can communicate with their base by relaying messages through earth. Since the astronauts must use radios to communicate among themselves on the moon it would be a simple matter to provide them with enough power to beam messages to earth. This could be done with a dish-shaped directional antenna which could be folded like an umbrella when not in use.

Earth can be used to relay messages from only one side of the moon however. The other side is always turned away from earth. Some other means of relaying messages would be needed on this far side of the moon. This could be provided by cables, relay towers or moon relay satellites.

Cables Too Costly
Since all the equipment for the relay system must be sent up from earth the cost of sending up hundreds of miles of cable would be prohibitive. Relay towers would be out for the same reason.

On the moon a 100 foot tower would have a range of only 11 miles. Of course relays on top of mountains would greatly increase the range.

However, mountain climbing on the moon would be a great deal more hazardous on the moon than on earth. A single rip in his spacesuit would mean death for an astronaut.

Landing a rocket-borne relay station on top a moon mountain and having it stay there and not roll down would be too tricky for even the most elaborate guidance system.

Satellites Best
This leaves the moon relay satellites as the best solution. Three satellites could provide coverage of the entire moon from an orbit 55,000 miles above its surface.

In this orbit they would match the rotation of the moon just as Early Bird matches the rotation of earth. Since the satellites would also always appear in the same place next to the moon they could also be used for communications between earth and the far side of the moon.

Kerak Castle, where Crusaders once chivalrously fought with Saladin, houses a new Jordanian Guest House. The eighth to be erected at Biblical and historic sites in Jordan. The Kerak Guest House has a notable view of the Dead Sea, a restaurant and sleeping accommodations for overnight guests. It opened in the Spring of 1966. Kerak is a two hour drive from Amman, Jordan's capital, along the Biblical Kings' Highway.

Circus Time

By John Rankin

Frank and his Uncle Joe are eagerly looking forward to spending a whole day enjoying the circus and all the exciting events that go with it, but Aunt Stella gets word that Cousin Emily has a chance for a singing tryout at the radio studio that very day and needs Aunt Stella as her accompanist. This means that Uncle Joe and Frank have the job of baby sitting with Cousin Emily's mischievous youngsters. "No circus, then?" asks Frank unhappily.

With a submissive shrug of his sagging shoulders Uncle Joe pushed back from the table and stood up. "I'm afraid so, son," he said weakly, and Frank got up and followed him outside.

Cousin Emily was in something of a dither as she picked up Aunt Stella and left for the studio — leaving her brood of bright-eyed and mischievous youngsters behind with a not-very-happy Frank and Uncle Joe. The youngest a mere toddler, and the oldest not more than seven. Elmer, Elmer, Elmer, Abner and Alvin in that order.

Lively Time
Things got pretty lively then, with the rowdy youngsters getting into first one sort of mischief and then another, and Frank and Uncle Joe had their hands full to say the least. But somehow the morning passed without mishap, and by noon-time a relative quiet had set in. Then sometime during the afternoon, Uncle Joe, taking advantage of the peace and quiet at the moment, retired to his room for a nap and had just closed his eyes when Elvis stuck his head in the door. "Elmer chased the cat up a tree," he said with an impish grin.

Uncle Joe came to a sitting position on the side of the bed to give the youngster an icy stare. "To blame with the cat! Let the fool thing get down from the tree the same way he got up there," he sputtered.

"But Elmer went up the tree after him and now he can't get down," Elvis persisted. "Mom will really get mad when she finds out about it."

Uncle Joe's face reddened. "Then bring the ladder around and get the little imp down before he tumbles out and breaks something," he grumbled. "There's enough turmoil around here as it is."

More Trouble
Elvin wrinkled his freckled nose and spread his hands in a hopeless gesture. "We can't, Uncle Joe. Alvin saved the ladder in two!"

"What! My good ladder!" Uncle Joe bellowed, coming to his feet fuming and sputtering. "Just wait till I get my hands on that young scamp."

Abner popped in just then looking quite concerned about something. "Frank can't get out of the cellar, Uncle Joe." He said excitedly. "Alvin locked him in and then somebody lost the key!"

hoping for at least one Buff-breasted to be added to our year's list of birds, but we usually find this shore line empty and aren't surprised or disappointed.

On the morning of September 3 we were facing this same experience — slogging along through the mud and being satisfied with the hundreds of little waders out on the extensive flats. Then as we rounded a small promontory of marsh grass, one of the bird watchers warned, "Hold it!" We all stopped in our mud tracks and sank lower into the muck; but who cared? There before us was one Buff-breasted Sandpiper. Motionless, we feasted on its presence. Then we moved closer and closer until it took wing, flew by us, and dropped upon the strip of land which we had just passed. We had had a highlight for the morning, but we weren't through with Buff-breasted Sandpipers. After we had pulled ourselves through a bog of marshy grass blades, we came out upon a sandy strip — and two more Buff-breasted. This field event caused us to recall the time when we had seen three at Meredosia, our record so far.

Could we possibly break that record this morning? Since the hiking was becoming easier, we continued to explore the flats that spread out before us. Soon we discovered some shorebirds feeding in the low sparse grass before us and just as soon we knew that they were Buff-breasted Sandpipers, seven of them. We had broken the record for this species in our area. And grassy edges. We are always what a treat!

Karen Brown Of Bluffs Bride Of E. St. Louis Man

The Reverend W. Robert McClelland, chaplain at Illinois College, officiated for the Saturday evening, October first, ceremony in which Miss Karen Jean Brown of rural Bluffs became the bride of Lee J. Cox of East St. Louis. The ceremony was performed at the Lynnville Christian church. Flowers decorated the candlelighted altar. R. John Specht was the organist for the prelude.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton (Brown) Brown of Bluffs route one and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cox of East St. Louis.

Miss Diane Brown of Bluffs, sister of the bride and Thomas Lybarger, East St. Louis, brother-in-law of the groom, attended the couple. Miss Brown wore a pale aqua street dress with matching color accessories. She carried a single long stemmed pink rose.

The bride wore a peacock blue sheath on empire lines with a matching coat and satin shell pumps. She carried a single long stemmed red rose.

The bride's mother was in a pink knit suit with beige accessories and white and yellow pompon corsage. The groom's mother wore blue with black accessories and a white pom corsage.

After a short trip to Springfield the couple took up residence at 230-A Pine street in Jacksonville.

The bride graduated from Bluffs High School and completed two years at Illinois College. The groom, a graduate of East St. Louis High School, is a senior at Illinois College.

The bride wore a white silk organza over taffeta wedding dress with a lace panel. A petal headpiece with pearl trim held her veil of illusion. She carried white roses centering a white orchid.

The attendants to the bride were gowned alike in floor length gowns of avocado green crepe with lace trains. They carried yellow carnations and ivy.

The mother of the bride wore a brushed silk moss green ensemble with matching coat. A bronze and green cymbidium orchid completed her costume. The groom's mother was in champagne lace over taffeta and had the same type corsage.

The couple spent their honeymoon at Daytona Beach.

The bride attended Jacksonville schools, graduated from Stephen Decatur High School in Decatur, Illinois and attended Southern Illinois University and University of Florida. She is employed at the Commercial Bank in Winter Park, Fla. The groom, a native of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, graduated from Bishop Moore High School at Orlando, attended Rollins College, Winter Park, Florida and graduated from Orlando Junior College where he was a member of Circle K fraternity.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Loyd and Steven E. Loyd, St. Albans, West Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Marino, Mrs. Silvestro Reali, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Rauso, Mrs. Louis Colella, Mrs. Poy Jonsson, Philadelphia, Pa. and Miss Marion Reali, Arlington, Virginia.

Woolfolk-Scott Nuptials Heard At Wesley Chapel

Miss Judith Elaine Scott of Jacksonville and Michael Lee Woolfolk of Scottville were united in marriage Sunday afternoon, September twenty-fifth, at the Wesley Chapel Methodist church.

The Reverend A. W. Mathias performed the ceremony at a candlelighted altar decorated with white mums and Fuji mums with greenery. Mrs. Larry Ferguson and Miss Joanne Petefish lighted the candles at the altar during the prelude provided by Mrs. Robert Mawson, soloist and Mrs. George Vasey at the organ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Scott, Jacksonville route two and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woolfolk of Scottville.

Mrs. James Scott attended her sister-in-law and Harold Woolfolk was his brother's best man. Ushers were James Scott, brother of the bride and Thomas Woolfolk, brother of the groom.

The bride was gowned in a white crepe and lace wedding dress that fell entrain. A forward headpiece of lace, with pearl and crystal adornment held her tiered veil of illusion. She carried a cascade of white Fuji mums and ivy.

Mrs. Scott wore pastel blue crepe and royal blue brocade, floor length and on empire lines. She carried a cascade of Fuji mums.

The mother of the bride wore light blue with a matching hat and black patent accessories. The groom's mother was in pink crepe with black accessories. Each wore a corsage of white rosebuds.

At the reception held at the church the following assisted with courtesies, Mrs. Ralph Hubbert, Mrs. Thomas Burney, Mrs. George Kleinschmidt, Mrs. Harold Cully, Mrs. Robert Houston, Mrs. Dewey Petefish, Mrs. Robert Headen, Mrs. Donald Richardson and Mrs. Durrell Bridgeman. Also Mrs. David Maurer, Mrs. Charles Camerer, Mrs. Charles Woods, Mrs. Earl Dugger, Jr., Mrs. David Mansfield and Mrs. Thomas Woolfolk.

The couple will make their home in Scottville. The bride graduated from Jacksonville High School in 1962 and attended Illinois State University. She graduated in 1964 from the Professional Business Institute and is a secretary at Passavant Memorial Hospital. The groom attended Macoupin county schools, served two years in the military and is employed by Baker Implement Co. at Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Guests attended from Kirkwood and Hannibal, Mo., Worthington, Ohio, Watseka, Ga., Ill., Scottville and Auburn, Ill.

IT'S PART OF GROOMING — An attractive appearance does not only consist of wearing the latest fashion styles. To make the most out of being well-dressed you must also be well-groomed. Clean and silky hair is important in this picture and to keep it that way you must shampoo often and brush hair regularly.

Beta Sigma Phi Chapters

Kappa Omega chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority met Sept. 12th at MacMurray Cabin on East Vandalia Road for a picnic. The Sept. 26th meeting was held at the home of Linda Birdsell with 17 members and a sponsor, Muriel Taylor, attending. Plans were discussed for the style show-card party to be held Oct. 11th at 7:30 p.m. at the local Elks club. The Emporium will provide the fashions.

Oratory and Speech topics were presented by Carole Thompson and Barbara Stoner. Cake and punch were served by the hostess.

The Oct. 3rd meeting was held at the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Taylor who read the Ritual of Jewels to three new members, Linda Birdsell, Betsy Molitor and Barbara Stoner. The president regrettably announced the resignation of the treasurer, Shirley Russell, who will be moving to Chicago. Following the closing ritual delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Members of the Jacksonville

Lioness Club met recently at the Holiday Inn.

The table was beautifully decorated by Lioness Lucille Walters with bowls of marigolds, mums and ivy. Lighted tapers added to the flower arrangements. Members were seated by matching cleverly cut place cards. Following the dinner, the main centerpiece was awarded to President Charlene Strubbe.

The invocation was given by Lioness Thomas and president Strubbe presided at the meeting.

Roll call indicated 14 members and one new member, Betty Sorrells, and one guest, Bette Wells, attended. Minutes of the last meeting and the board meeting were read by secretary Henderson.

A social hour followed the business meeting with Lioness Grace Furry, program chairman, in charge. She was assisted by Lioness Florence Murray.

A game, "Kings on the Corners," was enjoyed. Table winners received the flower arrangements. Lioness Furry presented two surprise awards, home-made candy and brownies, to Lionesses Taylor and Eberhardt.

The next board meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. October 10 at the home of the president Mrs. Strubbe. Lioness Catherine Taylor will act as chairman of the regular monthly meeting October 27. This will be a potluck dinner at the president's home. Members will be called for reservations.

Members of all Federated clubs in the county are invited to attend. A musical program featuring Mrs. Paul Woods of Beardstown will be enjoyed.

Lois Williams October Hostess To Liberty Club

The Liberty Woman's Club met Oct. 5th at the home of Lois Williams. Shirley Cook gave the devotion. Anne Dodsworth and Beverly Killam received prizes for complying with 'if you arrived as you were when called earlier in the day.'

Ruth James proposed a date for a Christmas party for Volunteer Services at the Jacksonville State Hospital. Beverly Killam was in charge of a contest won by Ruth Burmeister and Ruth James.

Mrs. Nettie Detmer was a guest and was celebrating her 80th birthday. She was presented a birthday cake and the traditional Birthday song honored her. Other guests were Mrs. Paul Marshall and Mrs. Robert Dodsworth.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be Nov. 2nd with Beverly Killam.

Janet Gaynor was the first actress to win an Oscar, for her performance in "Seventh Heaven."

Dealing The Ace In Viet Nam

808THEUSPLAYING CARD CO.
CINCINNATI, U.S.A.By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Thegeneral rule for success in counter guerrilla warfare is that it takes a sneak to catch a sneak. And, fortunately for the United States' efforts in Viet Nam, combat GIs are getting to be as sneaky as anybody in Southeast Asia.Take the men of the 25th Infantry as example.
Some time ago they determined that the ace of spades, long an ominous symbol in the poker-playing nations of the world, is even more so among some of the enemy. The Viet Cong, they conceived, have a thing about the card and avoid it like a mortal shell.So the men wrote to the U.S.
Playing Card Co. in Cincinnati for "approximately 1,000 aces of spades" in order to use them as a "psychological weapon" in areas where they wanted to put the whammy on the infiltrating Communists. Then more men wrote. Then more.The result has been that the company now sends out many thousands of such spades "free of charge" for any warfront GI requesting. And so many have been distributed that the indication is whole units of card-carrying soldiers are shuffling through rice paddies like riverboat gamblers in jungle boots.Does it work? The 25th Infantry says it does.The VC, of course, aren't commenting.
But one thing is certain.
Cagey American troopers not only thought up the card trick, they indirectly thought up the game that goes with it. Until Yanks brought them into the country, there was no recorded proof of any native fear of the ace of spades."We are a superstitious people," says Vietnamese United Nations assistant Bhan Huy
Bach, "but not of playing cards.
At least not before the Americans came."And now?
"Perhaps some VC do fear the symbol now. They tend to fear all U.S. innovations because so many of them explode. So it could be that the enemy hasbecome afraid of the ace of spades... simply because they just don't know what it is."Why the Cong fear the card is, however, academic. The point is they do. And, further, they show signs of fearing an increasing amount of such GI chicanery.The "black box" is another example. It is a small empty carton, usually fashioned with several impressive wires. Some U.S. Special Forces types have used it to considerable advantage when interrogating captured Communist guerrillas.They will question the prisoner.

And he will refuse to answer.

They will threaten the prisoner.

And he will shrug away.

ed up to the strange black box.
He is told that if he does not talk the container has power to blow his head off. Thus warned, thus voodooed, the victim normally begins to chatter up a storm of information."Everybody," explains the U.N.'s Bach, "is superstitious of losing his head."One other bewitching artifice that has worked on the battlefield has been a Polaroid camera. Some VC, especially those from ardently superstitious mountain areas, believe that cameras imprison their sacred spirits. Hence, our side has learned that to tear up a photo will often tear down the cap-tive's reluctance to co-operate.There are other examples.
Certain VC wear amulets to ward off American evil, while others believe Yanks have a poison touch; to take the talisman from the former or to simply touch the latter is often the most effective weapon in a soldier's arsenal.For years Americans have tried vainly to overcome the superstitious fear many backwoods Vietnamese have of them.
Now they are simply taking advantage of the same existing situation among some of the enemy.The Viet Cong dealt this game. American troops are only playing all of their aces.

Illinois Farm OUTLOOK

PIG CROP REPORT LOOKS O.K. FOR PRODUCERS

The quarterly pig crop report brought good news for hog producers. It showed that hog production is being increased very slowly—only 6 or 7 percent. This small increase—combined with limited supplies of beef and strong consumer buying power—should hold prices at profitable levels.

It now seems likely that hog prices will continue at profitable levels for about two more years.

The USDA report, issued on September 21, listed important information concerning the numbers of hogs on farms in 10 leading states, the number in different weight classes, and farmers' plans concerning future production. The report was based on information supplied by farmers.

The report showed that on September 1 farmers had 46,021,000 pigs and hogs, 7 percent more than one year before. It also showed that farmers planned to have 6 percent more sows to farrow in this September-November quarter than a year ago and also 6 percent more in the coming December-February quarter.

More In Each Weight Class
All weight groups showed increases above a year before. Hogs weighing over 180 pounds numbered 5,882,000, 3 percent more than last year.

Those weighing 120 to 180 pounds totaled 9,462,000, 9 percent more. The 60 to 120-pound group totaled 10,871,000, also up 9 percent; and the number of pigs weighing under 60 pounds was 13,570,000, up 8 percent.

Most of the hogs on farms September 1 will be marketed before the end of March.

The increase in hog production will still leave pork supplies much smaller than in most years before 1965. As compared with two years ago, the present level of production is down 8 percent. Considering the increase of population, hog production is about 10 percent less than it was two years ago.

Beef Limited
The pork market may benefit from restricted supplies of beef during the next two or three years. Marketings of cattle have been exceeding production for nearly two years. When ranchers and farmers begin holding back cattle to increase breeding herds, the output of beef will be curtailed.

The unusually high level of consumer buying power will also support the demand for pork.

On the other hand, poultry producers have been taking advantage of the shortage of pork to increase their share of the market. Broiler producers stepped up production 12 percent during the year ended June 30, and they are increasing about 8 percent more this year. Turkey growers boosted output 5 percent last year and 11 percent more this year.

All States Increase
All the leading hog producing states are increasing production. Iowa, the top state, showed an increase of 7 percent. The other leading states have increases as follows: Illinois, 7 percent; Indiana, 8 percent; Missouri, 5 percent; Minnesota, 7 percent; Nebraska, 7 percent; and Ohio, 10 percent.

and with Mrs. Tooker's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ballard, and son. On Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Ballard and son, Larry, and Barton Tooker drove to Bloomington for the Illinois Wesleyan University football game in which the Ballards' other son, Phil Ballard a senior, played left tackle.

Mr. and Mrs. George McKinnon, Alameda, Calif., have returned home after a week visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Ruyle.

The annual Confraternity dinner for members and families of the local Catholic Church was held in Union Hall Sunday noon. Father A. D. LeBreton of Murrayville was in charge of services during the day.

Mrs. Roy Reynolds attended the meeting of the Home Extension held in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bob Worrell, Winchester Tuesday.

WELCOME AAUW NEW MEMBERS — Mrs. Irving Olson, president of the Jacksonville Branch of the American Association of University Women (l) and Mrs. Charles Barlow (r) membership chairman, meet two new members, Miss Rebecca Barr, (second from left) who is teaching in Winchester, and Miss Jonette White, teaching in Franklin. Both young women are Illinois college graduates. Approximately 100 women and recent graduates attended the annual meeting held at MacMurray college, October 3.

2nd Year

New Travelogue Series Starts Oct. 12

A second season of personal-narrated travelogues sponsored by the Jacksonville Kiwanis Club will begin with a free show Wednesday (Oct. 12) at 8 p.m. in the Illinois School for the Deaf auditorium located on West State Street one and a half blocks west of Webster Avenue. Tickets must be obtained in advance from any Kiwanian.

"The Grand Tetons" by Julian Gromer will be the kick-off for the travel and adventure series. Gromer will come to Jacksonville to narrate his film journey through the Snake River valley in northwest Wyoming to the majestic Grand Teton Mountains which rise abruptly from the valley, without foothills. His film pictures the Jackson Hole area, lush with wild flowers, birds and animals. Camping families are pictured as they explore the terrain, ride horseback, go mountain climbing, and boat down the Snake River.

Gromer is a professional travelogue photographer and a boating enthusiast; he has won over 40 prize trophies for boat racing. He has produced films on the Pacific coast, the Gulf Coast, the Atlantic Coast, the Columbia River, the Amazon River, the Colorado River, and on Idaho and Canada.

Included in this film visit is a mountain view from the famed Chapel of the Transfiguration.

Season tickets for the remaining six travelogues after Wednesday will be on sale at $5 for adults and $3 for students. No single admission tickets will be available, but season tickets are transferable and may be used for more than one admission per night up to a total of six admissions.

The remaining travelogues are: Nov. 9, "Holiday in Quebec," Howard Pollard; Dec. 7, "Switzerland," Curt Matson; Jan. 18, "Windjammer to Australia," Art Erickson; Feb. 15, "The Pacific Northwest," James Forshee; March 15, "Rivers of Fire and Ice," Alfred Leslie; and April 5, "Spring Captures Holland," Robert Brouwer.

Everyone's Surprised Waring Still Rides Bus

By MARY CAMPBELL
NEW YORK (AP) — Fred Waring is still riding the bus.

"Why is everybody so surprised?" he asks. "How else would I get, say from Richland, Wash., to Spokane in the dead of winter?"

The reason for surprise is that Fred Waring, 50 years in show business, might be expected to be taking life easier. He might even be expected not to be on tour in the dead of winter, at all.

But to the 66-year-old Waring, the most natural thing in the world is to spend five months on a bus taking a choral music show to nearly 150 towns, cities and college campuses.

He's following principles tested during the 50 years — keep learning, work, and make sure the audience understands the words.

Waring's first "professional booking" was in a park on a Saturday night, July 1, 1917, in Altoona, Pa. Rain came down and banjo heads broke but Fred, his brother Tom, Poley McClintock and Fred Buck — high school buddies from Tyrone, Pa., 16 miles away — sang their music, loud and clear.

The Pennsylvanians really date from that downpour in Altoona. After that, the quartet called itself a "banjazzatra," and played for dances for $3 an evening, picked up members during student days at Penn State, started calling itself the Pennsylvanians in 1921, and in the 30s added girls' voices and went in strong for beautifully enunciated singing.

In the past 15 years, 25 Pennsylvanians have been Miss America candidates and one, Jackie Mayer, was Miss America.

Waring kept an eye on other bands and entertainers and learned from their mistakes and their triumphs. The most triumphant of all, Waring believes, was Paul Whiteman.

"He gave us jazz dressed up and purified. Before him, everybody said it was sounds from a jungle. Whiteman printed special arrangements of jazz for a special group of musicians, played it in a concert hall and made it acceptable to listen to. "The only thing he didn't do was sing. We learned to do everything Whiteman did, then we added our voices."

The Waring idea about voices is more than merely making sure the words of a song are understood. He says, "We want to dispel the meekly accepted theory that the Italian language is the most beautiful. I believe our language has as much beauty. Our problem is that we have not been singing our language; we have been missing a lot of gorgeous sounds within the syllables."

So Waring developed what he calls "tone syllables," in which the word "my," for example is sung "mah-ee." This led him into publishing music for school, church and community choruses, with the tone syllables written in italics below the lyrics.

While Fred Waring's wavy hair has turned from dark brown to snow white, the Pennsylvanians have been through the show business world — vaudeville, movies, radio, television, Broadway shows, concerts. "But we're still touring and we're still learning," Waring says. "Touring is the only form of show business which is really satisfying and rewarding. You have to know whether people like you. I don't know any other way except by going to them."

Triopia Crushes Bluffs By 35-0 In PMSC Contest

ARENZVILLE — Triopia started early and methodically crushed Bluffs 35-0 here Friday night in a PMSC conference contest.

The Trojans moved 63 yards in 10 plays following the opening kickoff to register their first score. Bill Meier capped the drive with a seven-yard punt. Larry Crews ran the point after. Ed Zulauf scored Triopia's second first period touchdown on a 3-yard run. Crews again converted on a run. Zulauf's score was set up by Keith Ogilvie's interception.

Meier scored again in the first quarter on a 36-yard pass run play. Quarterback Tom Burrus threw the scoring strike. Meier ran the extra point.

Crews pushed into the end zone in the second period from the one yard line for the Trojans' fourth score of the night. Zulauf ran the extra point.

Jim Kleinschmidt took a Burrus pass 23 yards to paydirt in the third quarter to end Triopia's scoring for the evening. The extra point was again run by Zulauf.

In the second quarter, Triopia had a 44-yard touchdown run by Meier called back on a penalty. The Trojans picked up 239 yards rushing and 53 passing.

Triopia is now 3-0 overall and 2-0 in conference play. Bluffs is 0-4 overall and winless in three conference tries.

Roland Says Blocking Is His Key

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Scampering Johnny Roland gives all the credit to his blocking for his fast start as a rookie running back for the undefeated St. Louis Cardinals.

"After all I've just got average speed," says Roland. "I've been getting excellent blocking, especially on the punt returns. And I try to go to the opening."

Roland set an NFL record for punt returns last Sunday as the Cardinals demolished Philadelphia 41-10 for their fourth victory. He returned three punts for a 47.3 yard average. One of the returns was 86 yards for a touchdown.

"I caught the ball," said Roland, "and the blocking formed. Then I saw an opening and nothing but Cardinals. Heck, I knew then that with those men in front of me I was pretty sure of the touchdown."

Leads NFL in Returns
Roland took the ball to paydirt on the play and leads the NFL this week in punt returns with nine for 178 yards and a 19.9 average.

Cardinal Coach Charley Frazier has repeatedly referred to his rookie running back as a money player.

"He never stops trying," said Frazier. "Like all rookies, he makes mistakes but he keeps on hitting."

Roland, who was a defensive back for the University of Missouri in 1965, started the season behind Bill Triplett. In the second half of his first game, Roland gained enough yards to earn the starting role and to be chosen the NFL Offensive Player of the Week by The Associated Press.

"I didn't expect to start," Roland said. "I just wanted to help out the team the best I could."

Besides punts, Roland has returned five kickoffs for an average of 22.2 yards. He has rushed for 136 yards on 38 carries and has caught seven passes for 83 yards and an 11.9 average.

Roland, who has yet to play in a losing professional game, is worried about the New York Giants who play in St. Louis Sunday.

"The Giants haven't won a game and that worries me," said Roland. "They're bound to be up for this one especially against us."

Beardstown Gets Fumbled Snap To Tie Wolves, 6-6

BEARDSTOWN — A fumbled snap with four minutes left in the game lifted Beardstown to a 6-6, defensive-minded tie with Pleasant Hill, here Friday night.

Trailing 6-0 since the first quarter, Beardstown got back in the contest when Pleasant Hill tried to punt from the Wolves' ten, only to have the ball go between the punter's legs.

Beardstown tackle Bob Keys fell on the ball in the end zone for the six points that tied the contest. The kick for the point after failed.

Pleasant Hill grabbed a 6-0 lead in the opening period when fullback Bill Tharp scampered ten yards off right tackle, capping a 50-yard march. The run for the point after fell short.

Beardstown tried a 20-yard field goal from the Pleasant Hill 20 with two minutes remaining in the game.

Most of the game was played near midfield, and both clubs stayed on the ground most of the night. Only ten passes were attempted in the contest.

The non-conference game leaves Beardstown at 2-2-1 and Pleasant Hill at 1-1-2.

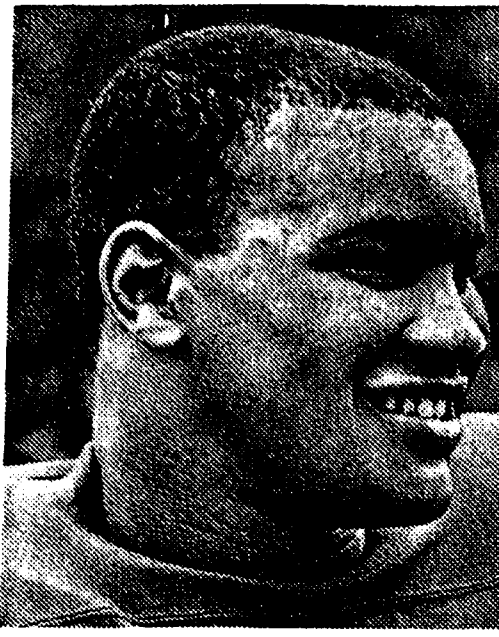

Score By Quarters:
Beardstown 0 0 6—6
Pleasant Hill 6 0 0—6

UNDERSTAND
NEW YORK — (NEA) — It was after Earl Morrill had won a game for the Detroit Lions with a 79-yard pass to Dave Middleton.

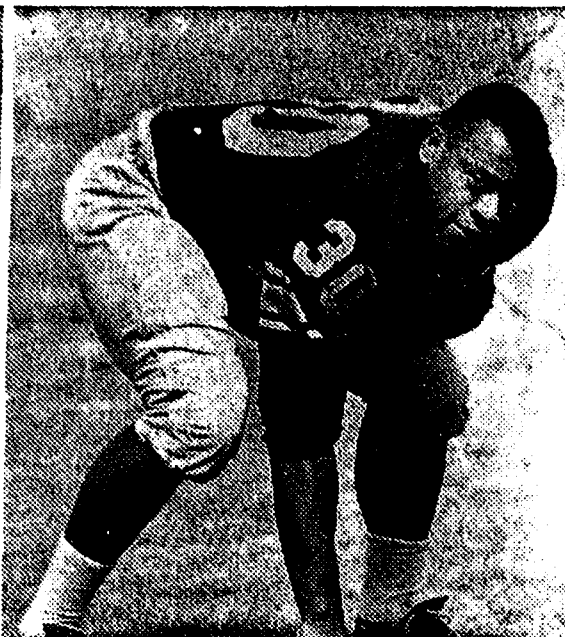

The television announcer, breathless as usual, asked Earl for an explanation of the play. Earl commented:

"It's our eight-look-in," he said, "which is like a bend-in deep with green left slow. It's not much more than a back dividing to the left, or the same as a swing in to the left. This time we did it off our opposite, making it from a two right. Any questions?"

Greenfield Upsets Winchester By 19-0

WINCHESTER — The undefeated Greenfield Tigers ended Winchester's IVC winning streak with a 19-0 upset over the Wildcats here Friday night.

Winchester, defending champion of the Illinois Valley Conference, suffered their second loss of the season after being undefeated for two years.

The Tigers opened their scoring on a 75-yard punt return by Charlie Gaige in the first quarter. The kick for the extra point failed.

Greenfield added 13 more points in the third quarter. Larry Featherstone skinned over for 16 yards and Greenfield's second touchdown. The kick attempt failed.

Jay Featherstone fired a 62-yard pass to Larry Featherstone to end the Tigers' scoring. Jay Featherstone ran the extra point.

Winchester had a 75-yard touchdown punt return called back in the first quarter on a clipping penalty. Later in the second.

Randy Childress ripped 15 yards off tackle in the third quarter, with Dick Lister booting the extra point. Lister ended the scoring for the night with a five-yard carry in the final frame.

The winners added 22 yards passing to their 266 on the ground, while Carrollton was limited to only 42 yards rushing and 12 passing. The losers managed only five first downs, three on penalties. The defensive effort by Southwestern was led by tackles Larry Summers and Dennis Gaffney.

Southwestern is now 2-2 for the season, 2-0 in the IVC, while Carrollton is 1-3, 0-2 in the league.

Sheppard, Weber Carry Spartans To 28-6 Loop Win

HARDIN — Terry Sheppard and Jim Weber each scored twice as North Greene rolled by the hosts 28-6, in IVC game here Friday night. The Spartans scored in every quarter.

Sheppard ran two yards for his first score. Weber added the extra point on a run. Weber scored in the second quarter on a three-yard run. He also ran the extra point.

Calhoun opened the scoring in the second half. Mike Devening intercepted a stray Spartan pass and raced 63 yards for the Warriors' only score. Jerry Rader's key block sprung Devening. The run for the extra point failed.

Sheppard also struck in the third period. His 11-yard run was followed by Weber's third extra point run.

Weber scored from the six-yard line in the fourth period. Duane Roger ran the extra point.

North Greene picked up 200 yards rushing and 100 passing. The Spartans completed 6-12 passes and moved for 14 first downs.

Calhoun rushed for 104 yards and passed 27 yards. The Warriors completed 3-10 passes and picked up seven first downs.

Calhoun lost both first-string quarterbacks in the first half to injuries. Delbert Vetter and Dennis Angel left the game and did not appear in the second half.

The Spartans now hold a 3-1 record overall with a 2-0 Illinois Valley Conference worksheet. Calhoun is now 1-3 overall and 0-2 in conference play.

GOVERNOR ARMBO
WINS KY FUTURITY
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Governor Armbo, showing two different styles, won the $61,602 Kentucky Futurity at the Lexington Trotts Friday in straight heats.

The 3-year-old trotter, owned by the Armstrong brothers of Brampton, Ont., Canada, took the lead in the stretch in both races, but started his move far earlier in the first heat of the third leg in trotting's triple crown.

Samuel J. Coll's Gay Sam finished second in the Futurity standings and Kurt Hellberg's Shatter Way was third.

Governor Armbo, a second choice in the betting in the first heat, was timed in 2:01 2-5. As the favorite in the second time around, the son of Jamie was clocked in 2:00 2-5.

Polaris, winner of the triple crown's first leg, the Yonkers, finished sixth and seventh in the Futurity. Driver George Sholly said the colt "just didn't have it."

Kerry Wav, the Hambletonian winner six weeks ago, was not eligible for the Futurity.

Bears, Colts In Top NFL Tilt Sunday

CHICAGO (AP) — The Baltimore Colts flee their baseball-mad city Sunday to hook up with the Chicago Bears in a National Football League contest which may be pivotal for either club.

It's the home opener for the Bears, who are just about in the same position they were a year ago when they started a tremendous surge which just missed carrying them to at least a share of the NFL's western title.

Invading Wrigley Field before an overflow 47,000, the Colts are rested two weeks by a bye and nursing a 2-1 record.

The Bears have a 1-2 record, rallying at Minnesota last Sunday for a 13-10 conquest of the Vikings with a late-game flash of last season's form by Gale Sayers and a squirming touchdown by Mike Ditka on a short pass from Rudy Bukich.

It was against the Vikings last season that the Bears, after three straight defeats, touched off a fuse with a 45-37 victory that swept them to nine triumphs in their last 11 games.

Both Offenses Dragging
Although Baltimore is running third, behind Green Bay (4-0) and Los Angeles (3-1), in the western division, neither the Colts nor the Bears have been any ball of fire on offense.

The Bears, in fact, are last in the NFL both in total offense and passing offense, reflecting injury losses of fullback Andy Livingston and flanker Johnny Morris.

Without Livingston's awesome power running defenses have been able to gang up on Sayers, the Bears' sensational 1965 rookie of the year. Without the fleet Morris as his prime target, Bukich now ranks 14th as an NFL passer.

The Colts aren't much better in offensive statistics, ranking 13th in total offense and 14th in total passing, despite the sixth place standing of esteemed Johnny Unitas among the league's passers.

It is well the Bears are among the NFL's defensive leaders (third overall), because the Colts will have Tony Lorick and perhaps Jerry Hill in fullback action. Hill's broken hand is mended.

The Colts' pass-catching star, Ray Berry, needs only 52 yards to break Bill Howton's all-time reception record of 8,459 yards.

BYERS SECOND, JHS 3rd IN TRIANGULAR

JERSEYVILLE — Junior Gary Byers came in second among almost 75 runners by the Jacksonville High cross country team finished third in a triangular meet, here Friday afternoon. Host Jerseyville won the meet with 28 points, followed by Edwardsville with 44 and JHS with 48.

Byers toured the 1.9 mile course in 10:23. Jerseyville's Cullingham won the individual honors with a time of 10:16. JHS's Brent Wright came in fifth for the Crimsoms.

Jacksonville freshman Kerry Friesen came in first in the Frosh run, with a time of 11:41.

CANADIENS BLANK BLACK HAWKS 2-0

Mitchell Passes 18-15 Hornet Win Over Havana

HAVANA — Dennis Mitchell threw his third touchdown pass of the evening to give Brown County an 18-15 fourth-quarter edge over Havana, here Friday night.

Brown County scored in the first quarter as Mitchell hit Harry Wilson on a 10-yard pass. The first of three extra point kicks failed.

Havana tied the game in the second quarter as Ken Beatty scored on a one-yard dive play. The kick failed. Mitchell ended the first half by hitting Wilson again on a 12-yard pass.

Brown County scored first in the fourth quarter on a 39-yard pass from Mitchell to John Bridgewater. Havana picked up a safety as John Crabtree tackled the Hornets' punter in the end zone.

Bill Reiser passed 11 yards to Delbert Davis for Havana's fourth period touchdown. Davis ran the extra point.

The Ducks were stopped on downs on the Brown County one-foot line in the third quarter. In the fourth quarter, a Havana halfback stole the ball from a Brown County halfback and raced to the end zone for a score, but the referees blew the ball dead and brought the play back.

Havana rushed for 119 yards and passed for 138 while picking up 17 first downs. The Ducks completed 11-26 passes.

The Hornets moved forward for 10 first downs, 137 yards rushing and 87 yards passing. Brown County completed 7-11 passes.

Brown County is now 3-1, while Havana is now 1-3. Score By Quarters:
Brown County 6 6 6—18

Powerful Offense Leads 4th In Row

QUINCY — Jacksonville's powerful offense scored almost at will, here Friday night, as the undefeated Crimsoms streaked to their fourth straight victory of the season, a 46-6 romp over winless Quincy Christian Brothers.

While the JHS offense moved steadily all evening, the Crimsoms did not have to punt once; the Jacks' strong defense set up a pair of scores and kept the losers bottled up in their own territory most of the night.

Halfbacks Abe Brown and Rich Coble both scored a pair of touchdowns and were cogs in the running game, as was fullback Harry Gollier. Brown turned in his third 100-yard plus rushing night in four games, carrying 13 ties for 111 yards; while Gollier picked up 66 more in nine tries and Coble gained 32 in six carries.

The JHS offense piled up its best rushing night of the season with 246 net yards gained, and racked up an impressive 16 first downs. The Crimsoms gained 77 more yards through the air lanes.

A dropped snap from center on a fourth play gave Jacksonville the ball on the Raiders' seven-yard stripe following the opening series of downs. From there Coble sliced off tackle for the remaining distance on the first play and Dean Hill booted the PAT for a 7-0 count with just over two minutes played.

March To Score Again
Early in the second period the Crimsoms took over on their own 39 and marched to their second score in eight plays. Brown ripped off 21 to the Raiders' 40 and Gollier and Benny Richardson moved it on down to the eight from where Coble again broke loose round end for a score and a 13-0 difference.

Quarterback Danny Brooks picked off a Tom Arnold pass on the next scrimmage play, at the 50, and ran it back to the Raiders' 21 to set up the next JHS TD. After Brown made it across from nine yards away only to have it nullified, Brooks hit the speedy left half for 23 yards to the two. From there Brown lunged over and Hill connected again for a 20-0 halftime difference.

Christian Brothers was held to a minus 33 yards on the ground, in the first half as the Crimson wall broke through to catch passing quarterback Arnold for losses seven times.

The Crimsoms got on the board quickly again in the second half, moving 62 yards in nine plays. In that drive Gollier carried four times, including the final 14 yards for six points. The kick was again good for a 27-0 margin.

Brown Scores Again
A 59-yard march that took only seven plays midway in the third made it 34-0, as Brown scooted 24 yards around left end. Gollier ripped off a 16-yard carry in the drive.

On the next series Christian Brothers racked up its only TD of the night as halfback Phil Schutte sliced 30 yards off tackle, after two long passes set the Raiders up for the score.

Graves scooted 30 yards for another score in the third period. The extra point kick failed.

In the fourth quarter, ex-Waverly player Dave Handy scored twice on runs of 15 and 20 yards. Graves ran the first extra point, and Stidman kicked the second.

The Redbirds rushed for 457 yards and passed for 253 more. Dennis Sweptman intercepted two Waverly passes, and teammate Don Reynolds intercepted one. The stiff defense of Virginia was paced by Sam Hardwick, Alan Hays, Phil McClure, Richard Disenthal, Walt Reilly, Stidman and Handy.

Virginia is now 2-3 on the season, while Waverly is sporting a 1-3 record.

Score By Quarters:
Virginia 0 14 6—24

Wildcats Score Initial Victory; Kincaid Victim

PALMYRA — Northwestern scored their initial victory of the season with a mild upset over Kincaid, 13-2 in a MSM conference game here Friday night.

The Wildcats scored in both the first and fourth quarters on short runs. In the first quarter Barry Harvey sliced over tackle for four yards and a touchdown. Larry Anderson hit Mark Warbaugh with the conversion pass.

Anderson scored the Wildcats' second touchdown on a plunge from the one-foot line. The pass for the extra point failed.

Kincaid posted their score when the Northwestern center hiked the ball through the end zone for a safety.

Northwestern is now 1-3 overall and 1-1 in conference play. The Ponies are 2

Include St. Louis Native Guard Christian Faith Deep In Buddhist Area

By CONRAD FINK

NONG KHAI, Thailand (AP)—Few of the distant Christian outposts manned by Americans throughout the world could be more distant than one in Nong Khai.

Here, deep in Buddhist country, nine American Catholic priests guard their faith in the rice paddies and tangled forests along northern Thailand's Mekong River boundary with Laos. All are members of the 234-year-old, semi-monastic Redemptorist Order, supported in Thailand by the St. Louis Province of the Redemptorists.

The superior of this mission—"the boss" as he's known locally—is a 41-year-old shirt-sleeved priest, the Rev. Francis Guatreux, who after 14 years in Thailand says home is St. Alphonsus Church in New Orleans, La.

By river boat, jungle truck or slogging on foot through monsoon mud, the priests move far into the interior ministering to 6,000 Thai and refugee Vietnamese Catholics in backwoods villages of four northern Thailand provinces.

Proselytizing is but one of their missions. As Father Guatreux put it, "We do what we can."

can includes providing stop-gap medical care, setting up a silk-worm farm, helping farmers irrigate their land, and digging wells. By helping this way the priests hope to break through the indifference or outright suspicion with which many Thais regard foreign missionaries.

In northern Thailand, where Buddhism is a way of life in addition to being a religion, the Catholics say they sometimes are regarded as captives of "evil spirits." Some Catholic lay workers even have been accused of preaching communism.

With the exception of Father Guatreux, who describes himself as "chief mechanic and housekeeper," all priests spend three weeks out of four traveling in the interior. They say mass in fluent Thai, eat local food and sleep in villagers' huts.

All this is not without hazards. In eight years in Thailand, for example, the Rev. William Bolin, 35, has had malaria, hepatitis, various other "minor" ailments, and a broken arm suffered when his river boat crashed into a sand bar.

Father Bolin, called "the river boy" because he visits villages by boat, is a native of St. Louis, Mo.

Despite their isolation, the priests say they have no morale problem, no trouble keeping their spirits up.

"I set a record! My Mom says she's never seen me so dirty!"

However, one concession has been made to northern Thailand's extraordinary lack of entertainment: Table tennis played in the mission's reading room.

MRS. HUNGERFORD IS HOSTESS FOR REBEKAH PNG

Mrs. Clifton Hungerford was hostess recently to members of the Past Noble Grands Club of Caritas Rebekah Lodge 825.

Grace Benson, president, presided. Members and guests attending were: Mildred Wilkinson, Ruth Hoover, Mabel Bolton, Anna Bernice Smith, Edna McDonald, Georgia Ranson, Elizabeth Bourne, Florence Hagan, Ollie Mae Hill, Maude Huggett, Clara Wyatt, Grace Benson, Florence Wood, Elizabeth Henderson, and hostess, Alta Hungerford. Guests were Pansy Lyons and Lonnie Kilselman.

be held Oct. 23 at her home in Athens was read and accepted.

Bingo was played during the evening and door prize was won by Ollie Mae Hill. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses and co-hostesses, Mildred Wilkinson and Ruth Hoover.

The next meeting will be Oct. 11 at the home of Georgia Ranson.
